Texas Farmer Captures Shelby Killer of Prison Guard

DESPERADO'S COMPANION FATALLY SHOT

Richland Man Is Critically Wounded in Struggle With 72-Year-Old.

A former Shelby man, who with a companion hammered to death a Huntsville (Tex.) state prison guard in a successful break for freedom was critically wounded and captured Saturday at Rosebud, Tex., by a 72-year-old retired farmer who became infuriated when his elderty wife was treated roughly by the desperado and his companion.

During the scuffle with the 140-pound Texan, the escapers' gun went off, fatally wounding the Shelby man's companion.

Texas police identified the former Shelby man as Ralph Dunlap, 26. He lay critically wounded last night in a Rosebud hospital.

Police said his dead companion was Fred Wren, 23, of Dead Smith county, Texas.

The 72-year-old mild-mannered retired farmer who captured the men was T. A. Burch, who stands five feet ten and weighs about 140 pounds, the Associated Press reported.

Texas state highway patrolmen arrived at the Burch home just as the second escapee was shot.

"Have you got them?" an officer shouted.

"I think I've got 'em both," Burch panted.

The capture ended a statewide manhunt that began Friday night when Wren, serving a two-year burglary sentence from Deaf Smith county, and Dunlap, serving a samilar sentence from Coryell county, Texas, beat to death Ben La Rue of Lovelady, a guard.

* * *

Took Teacher's Car.

The convicts had gone to the Burch home when their car, which they had taken from a school teacher earlier, had become stuck in the mud.

Wren ordered Burch to hand over the keys to his car. When Mrs. Burch shoved Wren's gun aside, he pushed her and she fell to the floor.

It was then that Burch became infuriated and went into action.

La Rue was found unconscious in his apartment across the street from the prison Friday night, the AP said. A mechanic's hammer, bloody and with strands of hair on it, was found in the apartment.

The men, with La Rue as guard, had been sent to the apartment to repair a telephone.

Convicted Here.

Attaches of Richland county juvenile court said yesterday Dunlap had been convicted of stealing several times.

In 1935 he was charged with delinquency in the theft of money from his employer and was placed in the county children's home. In 1937 he ran away from a farm home in which he had been placed.

He was discharged from the Civilian Conservation corps in 1937, less than a month after he joined the agency, after he was accused of stealing.

Dunlap was sent to the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster in November, 1937, after he was convicted of stealing $40 from a landlady. He was discharged from BIS in 1940, and is believed to have entered the army.

TRIMBLE DIES

WASHINGTON —(AP)— South Trimble, 82, clerk of the house since 1911 whenever Democrats were in control, died at his home Saturday after a short illness.

Tax Rates Jump In 22 Districts

Special tax levies and bond issues, approved by voters during the past two years, will bring higher tax rates next year for 22 of the 28 major taxing districts in Richland county, Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said yesterday.

Four districts will have lower rates while rates in two others will remain unchanged.

The new rates will be on the 1946 duplicate from which the county treasurer will prepare statements late in January. They were prepared by Wolfe and approved by the county budget commission, the state department of taxation and the taxing authorities of the subdivision affected.

The county rate of $2.50 per $1,000 of property valuation remains unchanged, but Mansfield's increased from $15.20 to $18.20, and Shelby's rose from $16.40 to $18.20.

Boost in Mansfield's rate resulted from the addition of the recently-voted three-mill school levy, the addition of the two-tenths mill recreation levy and the deduction of two-tenths mill not needed for debt retirement.

* * *

City Rate Listed.

The new Mansfield rate is now composed of taxes for the county at $2.50, for Madison township at 13 cents, the city itself at $3.87 and the city schools at $11.20. Only $100,000 worth of the $2,111,000 in school bonds voted a year ago have been issued so far.

Shelby's rate was increased $2 by the passage of the school tax levy and reduced 20 cents because of a cut in requirements for debt retirement. The rate in that city is comprised of $2.50 for county taxes, 20 cents for Sharon township, $10.50 for schools and $5 for the city itself. None of the $600,000 worth of school bonds voted Nov. 5 have been issued as yet.

Sharon township, with the lowest requirements for schools, kept its tax rate of $8 intact. With only $3.30 needed for the schools, the township's rate is the lowest in the county. The rate of $14.40 in that part of Plymouth township containing the Plymouth school district likewise is unchanged.

Highest tax rate in the entire county will be the $22.80 in Lexington village where the addition of $3 for a school levy

Dems or GOP, Army Treats 'Em the Same

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Democrats now understand what it means to lose an election, Rep. Wickersham (D-Okla.) said today. "I just noticed my guest tickets for the Army-Navy game," said Wickersham today. "They're in the end zone."

"They're sure treating us pore old Democrats mean right off. Why, these tickets aren't even within shootin' distance. It used to be we could count on eight good seats, right on the 50-yard line."

And now, shall we have a word from a Republican?

"I guess we Republicans toss a little more weight around here now," said happy, hefty Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio. And then he peeked at his guest tickets.

"What do you know?" he cried. "I'm in the end zone, too."

CHRISTMAS SEALS GO ON SALE MONDAY

The battle against tuberculosis will be pushed forward on new fronts tomorrow with opening of the county's ninth annual Christmas seal sale.

To reach an increased goal of $13,000 this year, some 4,000,000 seals have been made available for mailing to some 22,000 county residents. Last year's receipts topped $12,000.

Heading the drive is Mrs. H. C. Brokaw, of Shelby. Aiding the county association in the sale will be Boy and Girl Scouts.

Virtually all of the money raised is used for TB work exclusively in Richland county. Only a small portion goes to state and national groups.

GOP READY TO HARVEST JOB PLUMS SOON

15 Major Supervisory Posts Open, Shaffer Mentioned as State Road Chief.

By PHILIP GREENE

Republicans in Richland county are counting the blessings they inherited when the county and the state returned a landslide of GOP votes at the election Nov. 5.

Ralph M. Hardy and James V. Will, chairmen of the GOP county executive and central committees, respectively, report they have scores of applications for county and state jobs.

While admitting they have 21 applications for 15 major supervisory jobs in the county and elsewhere, Hardy and Will will discuss publicly only those for one particular position. That is the superintendency of the state highway department's maintenance division in Richland county.

* * *

Shaffer In Line.

"The rivalry for the job is pretty brisk," Hardy said.

Four men have formally applied to the executive committee for the position. Hardy said they are Glenn Swanger, mayor of Shiloh and a former employe of the highway department, Charles H. Hebel, Mansfield's superintendent of streets, and Chester W. Ervin of Shelby and Willard Groff of Weller township, both of whom were formerly employed in the highway department for a number of years.

Meanwhile, talk among Republican supporters has it that Murray Shaffer, former Mansfield service-safety director and Ashland division highway engineer is now being mentioned as the state highway department's next director.

SHERIFF'S CAR KILLS GIRL, 2

ASHLAND — Two-year-old Doris Ellen Crawford was killed here yesterday when struck by a truck driven by Ashland County Sheriff Herbert R. Myers.

The child, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Stewart Crawford, 219 Vine street, died at an Ashland physician's office about an hour after the accident. She suffered a fractured skull.

Ashland police said they were told the child was reported with her mother on Cottage street, when she darted in front of Myers' pick-up type truck about 10 a. m. The child was Ashland's third traffic fatality this year.

Myers told police that he didn't see the girl but just "felt the impact" when the truck struck the girl.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday at the Denbow-Bear funeral home. Burial will be in Ashland cemetery.

Besides her parents, the girl leaves a brother, Ernest, at home, and her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, of Millersburg.

Boy Rescues Three, Then Dies In Fire

ENGLAND, Ark. — (AP) — William Charles Rankin, 15, died in the blazing ruins of his farm home near Altheimer yesterday after he had rescued two younger sisters and another girl. The boy put his two sisters and the granddaughter through a window and then fell back into the flames.

Turkey and Trimmings To Cost Around $11.65

The turkey and trimmings will leave a definite dent in the Mansfield shopper's pocketbook this week.

Beginning with an appetizer, through the principal course and right down to the big cigar and the bicarbonate of soda, Thanksgiving dinners will cost the average family of four around $11.65.

With turkey selling at 65 cents a pound, a 10-pound bird will run $6.50. Add 75 cents for dressing the bird and the bill is $7.25.

The stuffing can run up this price if you prefer the fancier oyster or chestnut varieties. Oysters will cost around 75 cents a pint, dealers say, and the imported chestnuts which are expected in town for the holiday will be around $1 a pound.

A thin chicken noodle soup for the first course will run around 21 cents, but will be less expensive than oyster soup, at that.

And now for the candied sweet potatoes, mashed Irish potatoes, scalloped corn and applesauce, if desired. Sweet potatoes for four should average around 10 cents, Irish potatoes eight cents, canned corn 20 cents, and three pounds of apples 25 cents, a total of 63 cents.

The finger salad of celery and sliced carrots will add another 31 cents. Bread and butter will cost between 25 and 35 cents, depending on the family's liking for it.

Cranberry sauce, traditional partner to the turkey, will be made out of 49 and 59 cents a pound fruit this year.

Now for the finishing touches. You'll probably want pumpkin pie. It's your best bet with mince meat as scarce as it is. A 25-cent pumpkin will make two full pies. Add four eggs to this in the mixing and you'll have 50 cents tied up here.

Dill pickles and olives may add another 30 or 40 cents. Mixed nuts for the after-dinner snack will cost around 63 cents a pound and if you'd like a few grapes to nibble at, tack on another 29 or 30 cents.

CRASH VICTIMS SURVIVE COLD

MEIRINGEN, Switzerland—(AP)—A 60-man rescue squad Saturday crawled to 11 Americans whose U. S. army transport plane crashed on a glacier in the Alps, but Swiss military sources said the squad had abandoned efforts to start removal of the passengers from their icy shelf until Sunday morning

That meant that the passengers, including four women and a 11-year-old girl, must spend a fifth night on the 8,000 foot high glacier. Doctors were in the rescue party, however, and supplies have been dropped to ease the plight of the injured.

Brig. Gen Ralph Tate, deputy commanding general of U. S forces in Austria, asid that his son, Capt. Ralph Tate, jr., the pilot of the plane, had advised him that all had survived the ordeal of four freezing nights. Mrs Tate, wife of the general and mother of the pilot, was also a passenger.

Directing the operations for the U. S. army is Brig. Gen. Ralph Snavely, whose wife is also among the plane passengers.

2 ESCAPERS CAPTURED; ONE AT LARGE

Loudonville Police Chief Seizes OSR Fugitives.

Two fugitives from Mansfield reformatory were captured at Loudonville yesterday, less than 24 hours after they broke away from the OSR farm, but a third remained at large.

The fugitive still sought was Edward Koloze, serving a one to seven year sentence for grand larceny. He was identified as the man who entered a Mansfield home Friday night and forced a house-wife to give him civilian clothing.

Police expressed belief Koloze may still be in the Mansfield area. The two re-captured men were quoted as saying Koloze had decided to return here and surrender.

Returned to the OSR and facing sentence extensions ranging from six months to a year were Benny Newlan, 20, sentenced to one to 20 years for forgery and Alfred Creager, 26, serving a one to 20 year auto theft sentence.

Police Chief R. J. Schnittke, who captured the pair, said they told him they walked the 20 miles from Mansfield to Loudonville via the Pennsylvania railroad tracks.

They described their walk as "awfully cold."

Schnittke said the two were seized without a struggle about 9.30 a. m. following a report by Gail Hunter, of Loudonville, that he saw "two suspcious men" walking along the track.

The chief said he drew a gun when he was about 10 feet behind the men. Hand-cuffed, they were returned to Loudonville jail to await reformatory officials

The men escaped from the prison's farm late Friday afternoon. One entered the home of Mrs. George May, 61½ East Third street, around 10:30 p. m., and demanded food and clothing He was refused food but took a blue shirt and brown trousers belonging to Mrs. May's husband

BETTY'S MAMA NOW

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Actress Betty Hutton Saturday gave birth to a six-pound, 15-ounce daughter in Cedars of Lebanon hospital. The physician said both are "doing fine." Miss Hutton is the wife of Ted Briskin, camera manufacturer.

AFL Leader Hints Of 'General Strike' To Support Lewis

Steelmakers Shut Down 87 Furnaces; CPA Administrator Calls Crisis More Serious Than Last Spring.

(By Associated Press)

The government called for "drastic rationing" of coal by communities throughout the nation Saturday night as President Truman returned to Washington from a Florida vacation to take personal charge of his finish fight with John L. Lewis.

All indications pointed to a bitter drawn-out battle before coal starts moving again from the strike-bound mines.

Secretary of the Interior Krug telegraphed all 48 governors a warning that emergency soft coal supplies are slim and suggesting that local communities plan now for closing amusement places and even schools and extending the dimout if their stocks run low.

Lewis gave no sign of ordering the 400,000 bituminous miners back to work. A. Philip Randolph, president of the AFL Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, told a New York meeting that "it may come to the point where it will be necessary for organized labor to back the United Mine Workers with a general strike." The AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific already has pledged "full physical and financial support" to Lewis' union.

Already the strike which became virtually total on Wednesday had bitten into steel production. Four of the biggest steelmakers shut down 87 blast and open hearth furnaces to save fuel.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., biggest U. S. steel subsidiary, banked seven of its 27 huge blast ovens in the Pittsburgh district. Two of the seven were closed for repairs and will not be reopened until normal coal production resumes, a company spokesman said.

Bethlehem Is Hardest Hit.

Bethlehem Steel Co. appeared hardest hit with eight of 30 blast furnaces and 50 of 120 open hearths shut down. Bethlehem's Lackawanna, N. Y., plant cut production by 50 per cent to 4,000 tons daily. About 2,000 of the plant's 14,500 workers were put on alternating schedules to avoid complete layoffs.

The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. was operating only two of nine blast furnaces and eight of 24 open hearths in the Mahoning (Ohio) Valley plants. A Bessemer converter was also shut down.

In the Indiana Harbor-South Chicago area, Youngstown Sheet and Tube was operating four of five blast furnaces and eight of 12 open hearths. Two additional blast furnaces will be banked Sunday, the company said.

Mr. Truman, returning in mid-afternoon from a week's vacation at Key West, Fla., conferred immediately with Krug, Attorney General Clark and Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach as well as other advisors. Krug and Clark have been the field generals for the finish fight the president ordered against Lewis. Schwellenbach hitherto has not had an active role in the situation.

The conference lasted an hour and 20 minutes. Press Secretary Charles G. Ross reported that Mr. Truman got a "detailed report on the whole coal situation" but declined to say specifically what had been discussed. Secretary of Commerce Harriman also was invited to the session but was in New York.

Attorneys at Work.

At the justice department, attorneys worked on the legal arguments they will present to Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough on Monday in connection with the contempt citation against Lewis. Attorneys for Lewis also were busy at their headquarters.

Krug told the governors that the critically low coal emergency stocks made it "impera-

MILLER MOVES QUICKLY TO SAVE SCHOOLS' COAL

Supt. W. L. Miller moved quickly Saturday night to place before the Mansfield board of education a government suggestion that the coal strike might necessitate closing of the nation's schools and amusement places.

He said he would contact members of the board early this week to determine whether or not they deemed it advisable to meet in special session immediately to map drastic coal-saving measures to be put into effect if the soft coal strike becomes lengthy. The probability that schools might close before the Christmas holidays appeared remote.

Meanwhile, local theaters already were beginning to measure carefully their use of coal. Some cut off use of extra boilers to save fuel.

Mansfield's park pavilions have sufficient coal to last through the first of next year but will begin fuel-saving programs sooner if the situation warrents, a parks official said.

'Brown Out' Ordered.

The first effect on Mansfield from the coal strike will come Monday when, by government directive, the gaily lighted downtown shopping area will be "browned out."

The order requires that all outdoor and indoor advertising displays using coal-generated electricity be turned out, lights in show windows and show cases darkened, and all bulbs in theater marquees in excess of 60 watts turned out.

White way street lighting in excess of that necessary for public safety must be eliminated.

Schools have coal to last until the Christmas holidays under ordinary usage, Miller said. He added, however, that something may need to be done to curtail unusual activities.

"It is imperative that the board consider the matter of what the schools should do if the coal strike is long drawn out," Miller said.

The superintendent said there were some basketball games scheduled before the Christmas holidays. He said playing games in the afternoon would not save any appreciable amount of fuel and expressed doubt that a switch to afternoon games would be attempted.

Need to Keep Reserve.

Miller emphasized the need for "keeping enough coal in reserve "to prevent freezing of school buildings even should the board deem it necessary to suspend classes for the duration of the fuel emergency.

Theaters reported they have enough coal for a month or six weeks of normal operation and that this supply could be stretched through extremely careful use.

The theaters' major worry, however, is whether electric power will be cut off should the strike necessitate drastic power-saving measures.

Cold Snap Spurs Holiday Buying

Temporarily stymied by unseasonably warm weather, Mansfield's Christmas shopping swung into motion this week as topcoats came out of the mothballs at winter's first chilly blasts.

Clerks reported business picking up in all gift lines, with emphasis definitely leaning toward the practical items. Stocks are better than they've been in years, they said, and prices are slightly more padded.

"Don't let anyone tell you that prices are going to drop on department store merchandise," one department head said "If anything, all new merchandise will be 10 to 20 per cent higher in price than it is now. The shoppers who think prices are high now will see prices advance sharply by spring."

House slippers, lingerie, luggage, men's ties, socks, shirts (when available), table lamps, bed spreads and blankets are among the practical selections on which, merchants said, the heaviest run is being made. Golf shoes, jewelry, women's purses and imported gloves are moving more slowly.

* * *

"Best In History."

One shoe store, which is stocked with 45 different styles of house slippers in all sizes, is experiencing one of the "best pre-Christmas sales" in its history. This store has sold an average of four pairs of both stadium boots and golf shoes per day for the past month.

BACK SCHOLARS, URGES OSU DEAN

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The Dean Emeritus of Ohio State University's graduate school called upon the university yesterday to spend money for great scholars and warned that the nation's war-loss of a generation of young scholars would cripple many future projects.

Dr. Alpheus W. Smith, who retired last summer after 37 years with Ohio State, declared in his final report:

"It will be seven or eight years before the graduate schools can provide a new supply of productive scholars. This is the nation's most critical shortage. There is no escape from the fact that . . . many plans in education, industry, agriculture, and government will be either postponed or fail."

Dr. Smith suggested that Ohio State could spend upwards of $200,000 more a year—$30,000 for scholarships and fellowships, $50,000 for the graduate school, $100,000 for research apparatus, on top of increasing salaries for professors on "significant research programs, appointment of ten new research professors, higher budgets for all departments conducting important research, and a "major addition" to the university library.

"We must face the fact that great scholars are the first requirement for a great university," he wrote. "There is no substitute. Nothing must be left undone in the effort to have a superior university staff. The investment may be large, but the return will be great."

PASTOR TO HELP PICK TEMPLE SITE

Rev. Ben. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, yesterday was named to a committee of 34 prominent Ohio churchmen which will work out details for a proposed Temple of Goodwill in Columbus.

Bulb Scarcity Will Dim Glitter on Many Mansfield Christmas Trees This Year

By NITA BRANSON

Although World War II has been over for more than a year, Christmas tree lights are still scarce!

Compared with pre-war years, when lights twinkled from almost every home, this year's Christmas tree lighting will still be far from normal, although supply of ornaments is abundant.

That is the word of Mansfield dealers handling the small colored strings of yuletide lights.

"I ordered 5,000 bulbs," one dealer reported "and got 500. From an order of 1,000 sets, I received 150. We are getting roughly 10 per cent of our orders."

That opinion was shared by other dealers, one of whom said, "I had 350 sets several weeks ago. They lasted just three days. I expect another supply but not enough to last more than four hours."

Most of the sets which have already been delivered to Mansfield stores are the series kind. When one light goes out, they all go out. There are few of the multiple kind.

"I've had just 25 sets of this kind," one dealer said.

Another said, "We'll take just what they give us. But we haven't any idea what that will be."

A Mansfield hardware dealer, who also deals in Christmas decorations, reported he had received seven sets of lights out of an order of 50.

"I'm sure we don't get over 25 per cent of our orders," he declared.

But if you're scarce of lights, you're going to be able to make up for it in decorations. There are plenty of the gay, brightly colored balls, although the early glass ones are now being replaced in several instances, by plastic ones.

Small wax figurines, tinsel stars, strings of frosted pine cones and trees—there will be plenty of these to make the tree and home gay and cheerful with holiday atmosphere.

Garber to Speak To Co-Op Club

Clark M. Garber, principal of Bellville high school, will be the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Co-operative club, Tuesday at 6:30 p. m., at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Garber, who has traveled extensively, will talk to club members on the subject, "Eskimo Life." Program for the club meeting was announced by Earl Brandenburg, vice president of the club.

CONSTRUCTION TO BEGIN

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Construction of an $800,000 nurses' educational building and home at Bethesda hospital will start "in the near future despite the high cost of construction and difficulties experienced in obtaining building materials," Dr. J. A. Dickman, president of the Deaconess association, announced yesterday.

HOROSCOPE

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for a continuation of very real progress and growth on all those plans and patterns already established on firm foundations. But it may be found feasible and practical for introducing fresh or more dynamic ways and means of accomplishing goals, probably by tossing items of the non-essential and outworn into the discard. Dare to be original, novel.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of steady progress, building on firm foundations and improving an old-established plans and procedures with newer and constructive tactics. Nevertheless, there may be enhanced gains and solidity by daring to abandon certain outmoded methods and techniques for a newer or a progressive simplification of studied details, or possibly by bold audacity in the way of innovations, tests, experimentation, which while "something of a gamble" may demonstrate "the end justifies the means."

A child born on this day should be endowed with outstanding talents and skills, with much originality, ingenuity and progressive ideas. A life of romance and adventure are indicated.

MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL

More About 1947 Tyger Pigskin Sked; Boxing Dope and Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

THAT 1947 MANSFIELD Senior high school football schedule is really shaping up into something. . . . Tyger athletic heads want to book seven home games to inaugurate the new Stadium field in a fitting manner. . . . Thus far five contests have been scheduled for the new plant at 30-N and Trimble road with a sixth game almost a certainty.

Fort Wayne North and Hamilton have been added to the gridiron slate with Youngstown Woodrow Wilson due to sign up at any time. . . . The Hoosier eleven copped the Fort Wayne city title this past campaign with three wins and one defeat in league competition while Hamilton's Big Blue is one of southern Ohio's pigskin powerhouses. . . . Hamilton was inked to a home and home agreement with the initial test to be played in the Blue ball yard.

North may have had a premonition of signing to meet the Tygers. . . . They had a lad named Mansfield playing guard.

Contract has been forwarded to Woodrow Wilson for an okay. . . . The Youngstown team rates with Lima Central as Ohio's top schoolboy undefeated teams. . . . Youngstown won nine straight this year, a record surpassed only by Central which won 10 in a row.

The '47 slate reads something like this: Sept. 12, Fort Wayne North, here; Sept. 19, Cleveland East, here; Sept. 26, at Sandusky; Oct. 3, Portsmouth, here; Oct. 10, Springfield, here; Oct. 17, at Massillon; Oct. 24, Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, here (tentative); Nov. 7, at Hamilton, and Nov. 14, Martins Ferry, here.

Faculty Manager Fred Staub and Coach Paul Snyder have the Oct. 31 date yet to fill. . . . But after meeting Massillon and Woodrow Wilson on successive Friday nights mayhap that open date would be mighty welcome to the Tyger gridders.

* * * * *

FIGHT IMPRESSARIO Rex Reese is building up a respectable stable of fighters as well as branching out in the promotion business . . . He has seven pro leather swingers under contract and has booking privileges on Dick Alexander, Mansfield fast rising welterweight star.

Rex anl his partner, Sam Miller, are really sold on the work of Joe Brown, bell-wether of their cauliflower collection . . . Actually only a light-heavy, Brown likes to tangle with the big boys in the heavyweight bracket . . . A former Golden Gloves champ, Brown has won his last two fights by kayoes and is looking for another "birdie" job against Joe Ceryak in the Armory Wednesday night.

Lightweight Gale Frye, who goes in one of the prelims in the VFW show, is another Reese-Miller brawler . . . They also have Frank Brown and Chuck Albright, heavyweights; Kid Aubrey, middleweight; Rogers Rucker, light-heavy and Red Beckholt, lightweight . . . Albright and Brown mix in Mt. Vernon on Dec. 4.

Reese and Miller have also started promoting shows in Canton . . . Their first one is inked for Dec. 3 . . . Joe Brown has been billed in the 10-round headliner against Jimmy Fitzjames, who battled Billy Conn a couple of times.

* * * * *

CUFF STUFF: Ed Mutryn, fence-busting Mansfield Braves backstop of 1941, was picked up by the Athletics in the major league baseball draft. . . . The A's wanted insurance for top-man Buddy Rosar. . . . The 23-year-old, 192-pound Cleveland lad was picked as the Inter-State league's most valuable player and was purchased by Oklahoma City at the end of the 1946 campaign. . . . Connie Mack got him from the Indians. . . . He played 91 games for the Braves, getting 107 hits in 346 trips to the platter for an average of .309. . . . Mutryn was in service three years. . . . His three-year pro batting average is .329.

Clair Bee, in the December Sport magazine, rates Ohio State as the seventh best prospective quint in the country. . . . The Long Island U. mentor puts Illinois first and Kentucky second. . . . Mansfield's Commercial B bowling league will not roll on Thanksgiving Day. . . . Seville, of Medina county, engaged in organized football for the first time this season. . . . Twelve boys made up the entire squad and they copped one of four games.

Shelby's Whippets this year attracted more fans than any other team to represent the "bubble gum" metropolis. . . . However, the athletic treasury went 125 "bucks" in the hole. . . . New uniforms and other expenditures eradicated the grid melon. . . . John Tenant, all Mid-State league end, was elected captain of the 1946 Mt. Gilead football team. . . . Nelson Campbell, Indian back, was picked as 1947 captain and most valuable player on the '46 aggregation.

Notre Dame Triumphant Over Green Wave, 41-0

By KRIS KREEGER

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)— Notre Dame's Irish treated a record southern crowd to a demonstration of near-perfect football here yesterday, choosing 41 to 0, as the score by which they desired to trounce the Tulane Green Wave.

Nearly 70,000 spectators, the largest number ever to see a regular season game in Dixie, watched in crisp, clear weather. All in all, it was a fine afternoon of sport, except for the absence of a contest.

But the people came only to see Notre Dame, and that's all they saw.

The great Irish Quarterback John Lujack put on a magnificent passing show, completing 8 out of 9 for a total yardage of 120. Tulane's Don Fortier intercepted one of his tosses and ran it to the Irish eight, but Terry Brennan grabbed a Tulane toss on the four.

Notre Dame took the opening kickoff 77 yards to a touchdown in 11 plays. The next time the Irish got the ball they went 88 yards to another score in eight plays.

Jim Mello bulled four yards for the first six-pointer and Brennan three for the next. Fred Early missed the first place kick and made the second.

The Irish subs then took over, lost the ball once on a fumble, had a 36-yard touchdown run by Gompers nullified by a penalty, and then settled down to get a couple of second-period touchdowns.

Zalejski scored both times, sweeping right end for 23 and 12 yards to climax marches on 91 and 49 yards respectively. Early booted both extra points.

Notre Dame gained a total of 552 yards, 428 of it on running plays. Tulane got only 22 yards on the ground and 79 through the air. The Irish made 25 first downs to the Wave's six.

Mt. Union Defeats Kenyon

GAMBIER, O. —(AP)— Halfback Vince Marrott and Fullback Tony Hrascak led Mt. Union to a 19 to 12 triumph over Kenyon today with long, driving runs for touchdowns. Marrott counted on 49 to 20-yard runs in the second and fourth quarters while Hrascak ran 43 yards off tackle in the third period.

Bobcats Beat Xavier, 25-6

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The Ohio University Bobcats, sparked by speedy King Brady, defeated Xavier, 25-6 yesterday before a Musketeer home coming crowd of about 3,000.

Brady, operating from the quarterback slot, scored two of Ohio's markers and passed to Halfback Ralph Sayre for another.

The Musketeers, whose only score came in the third quarter, stopped two Bobcat drives within the 10-yard line during the opening stanza. But the Ohioans got a 51-yard touchdown drive going early in the next quarter, Brady plunging over from the four. Minutes later, Ohio recovered a Xavier fumble on the Musketeer 30 and Brady's touchdown pass gave the Bobcats a 12-0 lead as the half ended.

After Bob McQuade, Xavier quarterback, had intercepted one of Brady's passes in the third period, the Musketeers took to the air and moved to the Ohio eight. Bob Conway smashed through tackle to score.

The Bobcats resumed their scoring early in the fourth quarter, Brady going over from the three after a 40-yard drive. A pass interception and six line plays netted another Ohio score before the final gun.

BOILERMAKERS TROUNCED BY INDIANA, 34-20

LAFAYETTE, Ind. —(AP) —Big Pete Pihos, who came back from the European battlefields to lead Indiana to the Western conference championship last year, yesterday ignored a game leg that had bothered him all this season and scored three touchdowns for the Hoosiers in a 34 to 20 victory over the Purdue Boilermakers.

Purdue, loser of the Old Oaken Bucket battle for the fourth straight year, salvaged one achievement from the game. Sub-Quarterback Johnny Galvin set a new Western Conference punting record.

Statisticians hadn't figured his exact average tonight, but they said his 43.3-yard average on three punts today was more than enough to take his season's standard past the 42-6-yard average set by Ohio's Don Scott in 1940.

Galvin had a 42-8-yard average going into yesterday's game.

Ben Raimondi completed nine passes, two of them for touchdowns, in 15 attempts and gained 143 yards for the Hoosiers. Bob DeMoss hit his receivers with five of ten throws, one going for a touchdown, and contributed 42 yards. The afternoon's work gave Raimondi a season's total of 48 passes completed for 598 yards and DeMoss 45 completions for 612 yards. Graham's record was 53 complete passes for 714 yards.

SPRINGFIELD, O. — (AP) — Denison's football team closed its season yesterday with a driving 31 to 0 victory over Wittenberg, and Fullback Bernie Wentis closed his college career with three of the touchdowns.

In the last game for both teams, Wentis scored at the end of 24-yard, 18-yard and 70-yard drives. The Granville eleven's other scores were made by Halfback Bill Leitz and Right End Joe Hart.

Illini Win Big Nine Title

FALL IN LINE FOR '47 ROSE BOWL CONTEST

EVANSTON, Ill. —(AP)— Illinois won its first Big Nine championship since 1928 and probably a Rose Bowl bid with a 20 to 0 victory over crippled Northwestern before 47,000 at Dyche stadium yesterday.

Art Dufelmeier, lanky ex-B-17 bombardier who spent 11 months in a German prison camp, provided the spark which carried the Illini to a final conference record of six victories and a lone 14 to 7 setback by Indiana.

Dufelmeier's 53-yard touchdown run provided the finishing touch to a 13-punt second period in which Northwestern could advance no further than the Illini 29.

Illinois, whose one other setback in nine games this season was a 26 to 6 trimming by Notre Dame, now awaits a Rose Bowl invitation from the Big Nine faculty group of Ohio State yesterday.

The Illini, who last week downed Ohio State, 16 to 7, earlier defeated Michigan, 13 to 9, which may be the deciding factor in the Big Nine faculty selection. The Big Nine-Pacific coast pact does not automatically place the individual champion of either into the Pasadena classic, leaving the decision to a league poll.

The Illini previously voted against bowl participation, but is reported anxious to reverse its earlier stand.

Illinois got its first touchdown early in the second period on a nine-yard pass from Halfback Julie Rykovich to another former Notre Dame star, End Bill Huber.

Bert Piggott, number two fullback, singlehandedly accounted for Illinois' third touchdown in the fourth period, battering over from the one yard stripe after hammering from the Wildcat 20 in five plays. Reserve Halfback Roger Drew completed two of his three extra point attempts.

Huber, husky ex-Notre Dame wingman, had played only a few minutes previously this season. His snatch of Rykovich's pass early in the second period followed a 34-yard dash by Buddy Young to Northwestern's 10.

Minnesota 11 Turns Back Badgers, 6-0

MADISON, Wis.—(AP)—Halfback Billy Bye slashed 10 yards off tackle in the third period to a touchdown and a 6 to 0 victory for Minnesota today over its traditional interstate rival, Wisconsin.

The triumph, third straight for the Gophers after a slow start, was set up on Bye's 21-yard punt return to midfield.

The 19-year-old freshman picked up 15 yards on two smashes, and Halfback Mark Heffelfinger smashed for 10 and Minnesota's eighth first down on the Badgers' 20. Three more strikes brought the ball to the 10 from where Bye raced off right tackle to score.

Merland Kispert, sub quarterback, attempted the extra point from placement but the kick was blocked by Jerry Frei, Wisconsin guard.

Wisconsin had a 11 to 8 edge in first downs but the Gophers' net yardage was superior, 190 to 164 yards.

Harvard Loses To Yale, 27-14

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(AP)—After being knocked on their heels by Harvard's furious two-touchdown opening burst, the highest scoring Yale team in more than 40 years stormed back for a 27-14 triumph yesterday in the 63rd gridiron classic waged by those traditional rivals.

The mighty Elis, with power generated by their great Freshman backs, Levi Jackson, the negro flash, and Ferd Nadherny, scored twice in both the second and third periods to thrill about half the stadium's first 57,000 sellout crowd since 1937.

Harvard's once-beaten team, rated as its strongest since 1931, played its best football of the season during the first 15 minutes.

As soon as the teams changed sides for the first time, the thoroughly aroused Yales took over and held sway during the remainder of the game.

DOOLITTLE AERIAL GOES FOR OHIO TD

By DON STULL

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Paced by the record-breaking performance of Halfback Bob Chappuis, Michigan's Mighty Wolverines handed the Ohio State Buckeyes one of their worst drubbings in history yesterday before 78,634 homecoming fans.

Chappuis, Michigan's pass-tossing, swivel-hipped left half, threw three touchdowns passes, scored one himself, and piled up a total of 234 yards on the ground and in the air to eclipse a previous Western conference mark of 862 yards established in 1942 by Northwestern's Otto Graham.

Chappuis chalked up a net of only 28 yards rushing, but hit Michigan's receivers for a total of 206 yards to send his seven-game total in the conference to 1,002 yards. Graham set his record in only six games, but Chappius' great performance made him a deserved successor.

Although Michigan scored at will in every period, it was Chappuis' second-period splurge that sent it on the way to the most decisive victory in this 43-year-old grid series since they thumped Ohio, 86 to 0, back in 1902.

The Toledo, O., tosser hit sub end Bob Mann with a 16-yard touchdown pass early in that second period. He hurled another to right half Henry Fonde from 14 yards out, and scooted five yards for another touchdown late in the period after setting up the score with a 22-yard heave to quarterback Howard Yerges.

Center Jim Brieske, the Wolves' place kicking specialist, booted seven out of eight conversions and added a three-point field goal from four yards out in the closing minutes.

Six Michigan players figured in the touchdown parade. Fonde tallied two touchdowns, going over for the first six-pointer from the one-yard line in the first period. Mann also garnered a pair, his second coming on an end around ramble from 22 yards out in the third quarter. Halfback Paul White took a 32-yard Chappuis pass for another in the third. Dick Riffenburg, a sub end, grabbed a pass for a 40-yard gain and a fourth period touchdown, and Bill Culligan, a reserve back, added the eight on a four-yard plunge minutes later.

Ohio State's lone tally came in the closing minutes, sub quarterback Bill Doolittle tossing an aerial to Rod Swinehart who raced 40 yards across the goal. The play gained 63 yards.

Chappuis also set a new conference passing record, completing 12 out of 20 to give him 35 out of 63 for the season and a percentage of .556. This bettered the 1942 mark of .544 established by Illinois' Dick Good.

The game was Michigan's all the way. They outscored the Bucks 22 to 4 in first downs and held them to a net of 65 yards passing and running. The Wolverines piled up 209 yards on the ground and 390 in the air for a total of 509.

Latin Smothers Holy Name, 35-6

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Cathedral Latin high school rolled over Holy Name high school 35 to 6 at Cleveland stadium yesterday before 70,955 fans, largest crowd to witness the annual charity football game in the 16 years the event has been held.

The Latin Lions registered their eighth charity game victory in nine appearances, having been tied once. They also avenged a scoreless tie with Holy Name, but played in the stadium a month ago.

Proceeds from the charity game, which is sponsored by the Cleveland Plain Dealer, are divided among the medical injury funds of local high schools and the newspaper's give-a-Christmas campaign.

BREAKS MAKE UCLA PACIFIC COAST CHAMPS

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Capitalizing on two tremendous breaks, the Blue and Gold of UCLA yesterday won the right to play in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day by defeating the Southern California Trojans, 13-6 for its ninth straight victory of the season.

Performing in the mud before 93,714 rain-soaked fans, the Bruins clinched a trip to Pasadena and a contest with a big nine team, probably Illinois. All that was needed was a perfunctory vote of approval by members of the Pacific coast conference.

The Bruins scored the first touchdown four minutes after the opening kickoff, saw the count knotted as a determined Cardinal and Gold machine drove 43 yards in the second quarter, and came back to win the game early in the fourth period on a fumbled punt recovered on the Trojan five yard line.

The triumph was the second for the Bruins over the men of Troy since their first crosstown feud began in 1929, and the New Year's Day engagement at the Pasadena Bowl of Roses will be the second for the Blue and Gold.

What was expected to be a passing performance by UCLAN quarterback Ernie Case, one of the best in college ranks, was tossed out the window by the squirmy field and wet ball. The Bruins astonished their supporters by punting—and praying. The latter paid off and it was the supposedly punchless Troys who built up 176 yards by land and air to a mere 67 for their opponents, and nine first downs to the Bruins' three.

Pi Phi's Beat Tri Delts, 9-0

OXFORD, O.—(AP)— More than 2,000 stdents shelled out a quarter each here yesterday to watch the Pi Beta Phi Phantoms down the Delta Delta Delta Demons, 9-0, in the inaugural Rouge Bowl game at Miami University.

The sorority girls played four eight-minute quarters of touch football but interrupted the game twice as "powder boys"—replacing the conventional water carriers—ran out on the field with compacts and combs so the participants could "touch up a bit."

The "Queen" introduced at halftime, was "Miss" John J. Keefe, six-foot two, 180-pound former army air forces sergeant from Dayton, O. He was crowned by Georgiana Beames of Yonkers, N. Y., president of the university women's league.

Jo Bretz, halfback from Zanesville, O., scored the touchdown on an end run of 15 yards early in the first quarter. Halfback Marge Beverly of Elgin, Ill., ran around end for the extra point.

The safety came in the second period, when Carol Mohr of Trenton, N. Y., was "tackled" in the end zone.

Bengal Basketeers Battle Galion Wednesday

Mansfield Senior high school Bengal basketeers get their first taste of action this week when they engage Galion in a practice tilt Wednesday afternoon on the Tyger hardwood.

Coach Vern Hoffman has had his full squad out for only three days but expects the Tygers to be ready for the practice encounter. Pigskin performers joined the candidate list during last week's drills and some of ex-gridders immediately pushed to the fore.

Players like Oline Cline, Ralph Majors, Nick Gagich, Dick Flockencier, Bernie Weaver and Norm Shibinsky left the gridiron in good physical condition and moved into contending positions. Actually Cline and Majors, only returning 1945-46 regulars, had little trouble wresting first string spot from non-football playing athletes.

Approximately 20 court hopefuls worked out for three weeks prior to the reporting date for the gridders and six of them are still very much in the running for starting positions. Two of the group—Chuck Sisco and Jerry Robfogel—copped varsity letters last season.

Sisco and Robfogel are the only six-footers on the varsity squad and have been going at center and forward respectively. Both are seniors. Nick Gagich, who played a while of a game at blocking back against Martins Ferry, is pushing Shelley Swank for a starting guard spot. They are juniors.

Tom Blor, city junior tennis champion, is giving veterans Majors and Robfogel quite a run for a forward berth. Weaver and Flockencier, forwards; Shibinsky, center and Phil Pittenger, guard, are the other varsity squadmen who should get a lot of work against Galion.

Hoffman has been drilling his charges in the intricacies of the fast-break. The Tygers do not have much height but they look fast and can handle that melon adroitly. Mansfield will use a zone or man-for-man defense as the occasion warrants.

The Tygers open their regular season on Tuesday, Dec. 3, when the lock horns with an alumni outfit in one of the features of the fourth annual Tyger basketball clinic in the Senior high gymnasium.

Coach Paul Horneman, Heidelberg college, will be the principal speaker at the clinic and wil demonstrate techniques of zone defense and fast break with his Student Prince hoopsters as models. Horneman will also give his impressions of the best method of penetrating zone defenses.

Basketball rules discussion will be led by Jimmy Lymper, assistant court mentor. Sophomore coach Fred Staub will introduce his team members and Hoffman will present the black-clad Tyger varsity to the fans.

Proceeds of the clinic, which is sponsered by the Tyger booster club, goes to the Mansfield Senior high pep band which will play at all home tilts. The 10-piece outfit was formed from the Tyger marching band which performed at home football contests.

Wapakoneta will provide the first official schoolboy opposition for the 1946-47 Bengals. The Redskins usually come up with a pretty tough ball club and this year should be no exception. Mansfield rolled over the Wapak five, 44-29, last year but indications point toward a tighter game in two weeks.

Foxes of County Meath May Lose Their Wailing Castle

DUBLIN —(AP)— What will the little foxes do if the ancient home of the Gormanstons, Gormanston Castle, County Meath, is sold "over their heads"?

People all over the wide and rolling countryside on the Dublin-Meath border asked the question when they read the announcement that the castle, which has been in the possession of the Gormanstons since the reign of Edward III of England, was to be put up for sale.

In the legends of the countryside foxes have been said to gather and howl upon the death of any member of the family since the days when the first Lord Gormanston, Robert Preston, British Lord High Chancellor of Ireland, purchased the estate.

Employes and neighboring villagers still tell remarkable stories of how, upon a death, the grounds are overrun by foxes who gather outside the huge 87-roomed mansion and howl weirdly through the night.

John Fleming, a gardener on the grounds for 40 years, told of some of the more recent appearances of the foxes In 1907 on the death of the great-grandfather of the present Lord Gormanston, his son Col. Preston was watching by the remains in the castle chapel. During his vigil he heard foxes howling and on going to the door was confronted by a great band of the animals. He chased them away repeatedly but always they returned and remained crying and barking through the night

Fleming said that in 1941, he and his daughter heard the foxes again. In brilliant moonlight he saw packs of the animals wandering around barking and howling The following morning he learned that Capt Preston, a member of the family had died in Dublin

The present holder of the family title is seven-year-old Jenico Nicholas Dudley Preston, 17th Viscount and Premier Viscount of Ireland He succeeded to the title on the presumed death of his father, Lord Gormanston, an infantry officer, who in 1940, during the retreat of the British army to Dunkirk, was last seen swimming a river under fire from the Germans

The court accepted the evidence but that night, say the local people, the foxes did not gather, and there are many among the family retainers who stoutly maintain that the missing lord is not dead.

Hangovers Aid Science In Cure Of Alcoholics

NEW YORK—(AP)—A scientific study of alcoholic hangovers is reported in the Quarterly Journal of Alcohol by Giorgio Lolli, M D, of Yale.

His cases were men and women who went on occasional sprees to escape from their worries but who had lost the power to resist this form of escape Dr Lolli is an assistant professor of applied physiology and medical director of the Yale Plan Clinic for alcoholics.

He found that during the hangover period, when they felt very bad, these persons were apt to tell facts they kept secret ordinarily that were helpful in aiding their condition.

One man, Dr. Lolli reported, had a craving for milk after sobering up. This, the doctor said, seems to be the expression of a persistent and unsatisfied longing for maternal affection.

Dr Lolli said the thirst of hangovers seems to be due mainly to a shift of water within tissue cells The water leaves the insides of cells and goes into the spaces between these tiny bits of tissue

The causes of headaches he declared are uncertain Livers probably are one cause

Loss of self-esteem was common in all the hang-over patients Fatigue, sleeplessnes and stomach disorders were frequent Hangovers sometimes caused flare-ups in illnesses which had become quiescent

Dr. Lolli asserted that tapering-off in drinking is no cure for the troubles caused by alcoholism, and not a good way to avoid future sprees But he said that careful treatment of the hang-over is a useful way to save alcoholics.

MARKET HALTS LONG NOSEDIVE

NEW YORK—(AP)—The stock market negotiated a rally yesterday after seven successive declining sessions, longest sustained setback in three years.

The revival was attributed mainly to short covering and quick-turn buying by professionals who believed the list had been oversold and that a turn for the better might come in the coal crisis over the week-end.

Numerous skeptics, however, held aloof and public participation was reported to have been at a minimum. Further tax selling provided a restraint.

Steels, motors, rubbers, rails and utilities were up fractions to 2 or more points at the close although most finished under the best. Transfers were 620,000 shares

The day's gainers included Du Pont, up 4 points at 169 on 300 shares, Santa Fe 2½ at 88½, Union Pacific 2¼ at 127, Douglas Aircraft 2⅝ at 66¼, Southern Railway 2 at 39¾, Chrysler 2 at 83, Goodrich 2 at 62½, U. S. Steel 1⅜ at 69, General Motors 1⅜ at 49¾, Woolworth 1 at 44¾, Kennecott 1 at 45½ and American Telephone ⅞ at 1617-8.

Gen. Hershey Urges Extension of Draft

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Extension of the selective service act beyond March expiration date, followed by early legislation for universal military training, was urged Saturday by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, as essential to the nation's defense needs.

Speaking before the second annual convention of the American Veterans of World War II, Hershey declared that "we are already on borrowed time"-in the matter of preparedness.

GRAIN UPTURN COMES TO END

CHICAGO—(AP)—Early gains in grains were either reduced or erased in late dealings yesterday when local traders decided to take profits following the strong upturn this week. Final prices were mixed, with deferred contracts relatively stronger than near-by deliveries

There was no specific reason for the late selling other than a desire to even-up positions over the week-end, particularly in view of the uncertain coal situation Selling was not heavy and mainly affected the near-by months as these had gained most during the week.

Wheat finished ¾ lower to ⅝ higher, Jan $2 15¼. This contract did not get near its 26 year high established yesterday. Corn closed ⅛-½ lower, Jan. $1 35¼-⅜, and oats ended ⅜ lower to ⅝ higher, Dec. 80⅝-¾.

EX-WPA OFFICIAL SENTENCED TO LIFE

MOREHEAD, Ky.—(AP)—Matthew Fyffe, curley-haired former Ashland WPA official, was convicted Saturday for the second time of the slaying of his cousin, Ida Mason, and for the second time heard himself sentenced to life imprisonment

The body of the comely 32-year-old former Cincinnati aircraft firm employe was found along railroad tracks east of Morehead, February 23, 1943.

The commonwealth charged that she had been slain for two $5,000 insurance policies, one of them carrying double indemnity, for which Fyffe was the beneficiary Fyffe's first trial ended in a disagreement

TWO MOTORCYCLISTS INJURED IN CRASH

John Zolman, 27, of Fredericktown, R. D. 1, and Hobart Williams, 23, of Fredericktown, R. D. 3, suffered torn knee ligaments when a motorcycle on which they were riding yesterday collided with a car at Mt. Gilead.

Both were admitted to Mansfield General hospital where their condition last night was reported by hospital attendants as "good".

The sheriff's office at Mt. Gilead said the accident occurred about 2:30 p. m. yesterday at Main and Marion streets when the men's cycle collided with the front of a car driven by Geraldine Schreck, of Mt. Gilead, R. D 1

CHIEF SOLVES PROBLEM

Aussies Honor Early Explorer On New Stamp

AUSTRALIA'S Mitchell centenary stamps, marking the 100th anniversary of Sir Thomas Livingstone Mitchell's explorations, picture Sir Thomas against a map of Queensland. Circling the map are the words "Centenary of Mitchell's Exploration of Central Queensland," and across it are the dates "1846-1946." Farm animals and typical countryside appear in the background.

Queensland, located in the northeastern part of Australia, originally was a part of New South Wales. Like New South Wales, it issued its own postage stamps until organization of the Australian Commonwealth.

Sir Thomas Mitchell was born in Scotland June 16, 1792, and served as surveyor-general of New South Wales. He died in 1855.

Values and colors of the new stamps are 2½ pence red; 3½ pence blue and one shilling green.

'RATION COAL DRASTICALLY,' U. S. ADVISES

Communities Asked to Study Possibiiity of Closing Schools, Theaters.

tive that you, by proclamation or other means, notify the communities of your state that these supplies will soon be exhausted unless the most prudent and drastic rationing is applied by the communities themselves."

Krug said each community should decide what activities should be given preference and "whether available coal stocks should be conserved by dimouts, closing or restricting amusement places, closure of schools, curtailment of power for industrial purposes or whether in its opinion coal stocks available in the community are sufficient to justify no action."

State Conservators Urged.

He urged that each state set up a post of fuel conservator or a fuel conservation committee to advise local committees.

In supplements to the previous coal freeze order, Krug barred railroads from taking over coal in transit and notified any shippers whose mines are operating to ship coal only on government orders to emergency users.

A similar appeal to the public to conserve coal came from Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small.

"I urge every member of a household which burns gas and electricity to exercise the greatest economy in their use, for only with such cooperation will disastrous discontinuance of services in many areas be avoided," his statement said. "I urge, too, the conscientious voluntary compliance by business establishments with the terms of the orders CPA issued yesterday, and I ask for the assistance of state and municipalities in carrying out these necessary provisions.

"The turning off of one gas burner or light bulb is a little thing in itself, but if it is done in millions of homes and stores and office buildings, the cumulative saving is very great indeed.

"The country is faced with a crisis far more serious than the situation created by the coal strike last spring."

The government has ordered a 21-state dimout, more far-reaching than any in wartime, to save electric energy generated from coal. That and another directive curtailing passenger service on coal-burning railroad lines by 25 per cent go into effect Monday.

Lewis to Appear Monday.

Lewis is required to appear before Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough Monday to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court for not withdrawing his notice of termination of his union's contract with the government, as the judge had ordered.

With clamor growing among congressmen for legislative action to curb strikes, Chairman Slaughter (D-Mo.) of the house surplus property committee called a hearing Monday to determine if the government-owned Big and Little Inch pipelines could be converted immediately as conveyors of natural gas.

The government was reported headed toward a decision next week on the question, in hopes the gas which the wartime pipelines could carry from Texas to the cold-weather, industrial east might help ease the fuel shortage.

Meantime the Solid Fuels Administration announced that soft coal production in 1946 through Nov. 16 was 6 2 per cent less than in the same 1945 period. For the week ended Nov. 16 production was 12,500,000 tons.

One of President Truman's advisors said the chief executive might call a bi-partisan conference of congressional leaders if developments next week fail to indicate a quick solution of the coal shortage.

(By Associated Press)

A number of governors acted quickly Saturday night to comply with a request of Secretary of the Interior Krug for fuel conservation measures but Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia bluntly declared that "I certainly do not propose to put in controls in Georgia."

Arnall said that "instead of telling governors and communities of the nation what they should do, I for one would like to tell the secretary of interior, the president and the federal authorities that they should get busy and settle the controversy.

MANSFIELD FIRM WINS CONTRACT IN LOUDONVILLE

LOUDONVILLE—A Mansfield company's off to move 15,000 cubic yards of earth at the new addition to the Loudonville cemetery for 29 cents a cubic yard was accepted this week by the village council.

Loudonville post 257 of the American Legion also approved plans submitted by Vernon Redding and associates of Mansfield for a $15,000 improvement of their present building.

The improvement will include a club room, lounge and bar and card room on the main floor. At present, club rooms are on the second floor.

The Legion plans immediately to apply to the Civilian Production Administration for a permit to complete the project.

The dirt-moving contract went to George B. Herring and Son of Mansfield. Its bid was lowest of seven submitted to the village clerk, Margaret Weimer.

The cemetery addition consists of 6½ acres east of the present cemetery. It was added several years ago but because a steep embankment must be graded to permit its use

Cold Weather Spurs Buying

One of the "old timers" will be back on the shelves this Christmas—silk hose. Price will rang around $2.98 and the luxuries can be had in either plain or mesh weaves.

Women's lingerie departments, harassed for four years with persistent shoppers and very little to show them, are hitting a hey day with excellent stocks of slips, gowns, negligees and blouses.

Men's Stocks Doubled.

Men's ready-to-wear stores in general report stocks just double those of last year, with the possible exception of neckwear and shirts. One merchant said that three of his best wholesale houses on ties have cancelled shipments for the rest of this year because of the shortage of lining.

White shirts are a little more plentiful this year than last. By that, we mean, you see them occasionally. But the menfolk won't open too many boxes containing white shirts.

Luggage shoppers, who haven't either purchased or made a layaway, may be out of luck if they wait much longer to make selections on this item. Stores reported that they received an unusually large supply of luggage but that travel-minded patrons snatched it up early.

Costume jewelry counters, inevitable catcher of the feminine eye, are brimming over with bracelets, pins, earrings, and necklaces ranging from $1 to $70.

* * *

Purse Selection Better.

One of the few indications that prices on at least a few articles may be dropping, was found at a purse counter, where genuine leather handbags at $5 95 are back in stock. Last year the same counter had no leather purse under $10. Here again, selections are better than average. Prices in this department generally run from $5 to $23 including corde bags.

A sister department to the purses is the glove counter, where imported suedes and doeskins from Argentina are making a reappearance after an absence during the war. These articles are being sold in relation to their prices of $8.95 and $11.95. White kid, which is making a big hit with the early shoppers, are more moderately priced at $5.95.

CIO Board Plans No Aid To Lewis

ATLANTIC CITY — (AP) — The CIO's executive board decided today against any action beyond that taken earlier this week by the eighth CIO convention in support of John L. Lewis and his AFL United Mine Workers in the current coal strike.

Asked if the CIO would be represented in federal court at Washington where Lewis was scheduled to appear Monday to defend himself against contempt charges, CIO President Philip Murray said his board had decided against any further action.

The CIO convention, which closed here yesterday, passed an amendment to an anti-labor injunction resolution condemning the court's action in ordering Lewis to keep the nation's coal mines in operation. That was as far as the CIO would go, Murray said.

KEROSENE FUMES IGNITE, TWO HURT

Exploding kerosene fumes blew off the grease room door of the Pete Kunz service station on North Main street last night, firemen reported. Kunz and an employe, John Angle, suffered minor injuries.

Firemen said the kerosene was being used to clean the grease room floor and said that the fumes were ignited by a water heater flame. Kunz received a bruised arm; Angle a sprained thumb. Neither required medical treatment.

The lower portion of the overhead door was torn from its tracks by the blast, firemen said, and portions of it blown into the middle of Main street. A work bench was damagel. Explosion occurred about 7 p. m.

Boy, 14, Admits Killing Foster Parents and Sister, 12

DUAL SLAYING TRAGIC CLIMAX TO FAMILY ROW

Youth Tells Police He Went To Movie Before Surrendering.

ROCKVILLE, Md. —(AP)—Fourteen-year-old Robert Snyder told police Saturday night he had shot and killed his foster parents and younger sister during a family argument and then attended a movie before surrendering himself.

Investigating his story, police found the bodies of Ross Snyder, 50, Washington tax attorney, Mrs. Snyder, 45, and Jane Ann Snyder, 12, in the kitchen of the Snyder farm home. Each had been shot in the head with a shotgun.

Dr. F. J. Broschart, Montgomery county medical examiner, said the three were killed at about 1 p. m.

He said the boy related that he had been out until early Saturday morning, was reprimanded for coming in late and that the argument continued through the morning. He quoted the boy as saying he shot the three with a shotgun, then attended a movie in Washington.

* * *

Friend Urged Surrender.

Dr. Broschart said the boy then called a friend who advised him to give himself up to police. Early in the evening Robert walked into the police station at Bethesda, Md., a few miles from Rockville and a Washington suburb.

Friends of the family said Robert and his sister had been adopted as infants by Mr. and Mrs. Snyder.

After the visit to the Snyder farm, Robert was taken to the office of Joseph Simpson, jr., state's attorney for Montgomery county, for further questioning.

Juvenile authorities were called in since the boy is only 14.

* * *

Prominent Socially.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder were residents of the fashionable Chevy Chase, Md., district for 14 years before moving to the farm near Seneca, Md., last April.

Snyder was prominent in the Knights Templar, Masonic organization. He taught law at Southeastern university, Washington. Mrs. Snyder was active in numerous clubs, including the Bethesda Woman's club, the Parent-Teacher association, and the Sunshine club of Washington, of which she was president.

Jane Ann attended Leland junior high school at Bethesda.

Neighbors described Robert as a "quiet" boy. They recalled he had been promised a shotgun last spring but that because of some action of which his father disapproved, he did not get the gun.

Ownership of the gun used in the slayings was not immediately disclosed by police.

Aussie Birds Store Insects In Nests

SYDNEY, Australia—(AP)—Some Australian birds store live insects in their nests for future eating. The crested bellbird, which is fairly common in inland districts, gathers hairy caterpillars. To ensure that the caterpillars don't crawl too far away the bird cripples them by squeezing them with its beak.

Rainbow-birds, or bee-eaters, apparently store living dragonflies. Australian naturalists have observed quantities of living dragon-flies, each with badly torn wings, alongside young birds in the nesting burrows.

Hit-and-Run Plane Hits Power Lines

HILLSBOROUGH, N. H.—(AP)—This little dairyfarming community had a hit-and-run plane accident, the first in its history.

A low-flyig craft tangled with power lines near the Archie McAlister farm, broke a couple and zoomed off without making a landing.

Observers were unable to catch the plane's number or describe it.

County OPA Fixtures To Aid Vet Training

The equipment in Richland county's OPA offices will be turned over to a college participating in the veterans' education program when the OPA office closes Dec. 12.

C. C. Beelman, manager of the price control board, said the office equipment includes 109 desks, chairs, filing cabinets, and typewriters.

Beelman said he is expecting a notice from the Cleveland office next week indicating the college to which the furniture will go and when the supplies will be picked up.

Furniture at the Mansfield office includes four typewriters, 18 files, nine office desks, nine typewriter desks, 10 office tables, eight typist chairs, 40 other office chairs, nine desk lamps and one supply cupboard.

In making the announcement concerning disposal of the office furniture in OPA offices, Stuart Manning, of the Cleveland OPA district said:

"An agreement has been reached between the War Assets Administration and the Federal Works Agency, and OPA which provides that all surplus furniture and equipment will be transferred to the WAA. WAA in turn will transfer the property to the FWA for use in schools and colleges participating in the educational program provided by the G.I. Bill of Rights."

Manning urged that prospective buyers not waste time and money in directing inquiries to OPA as the agency is not authorized to dispose of any surplus property except to the WAA.

Laundry Built Off Kitchen Is Handy

For the woman who does her own housework, it is a very nice thing to have the laundry room open just off the kitchen. Then on busy mornings the laundry may be in process of washing while the housewife washes the breakfast dishes or prepares her mid-day or evening meal.

In such a laundry room the tubs, washing machine, dryer, electric ironer should be judiciously placed to take account of time and step saving and so that the work done in this room goes forward in an orderly routine from beginning to end.

A rubber tile floor is easy on the feet and one is not so tired at the end of the day as on a less resilient surface.

FREE MOVIES END BUSINESS SLUMP

WYANDOTTE, Ky.—(AP)—Free movies ended a business slump at this village's general store.

J. T. Kennedy got the idea when summer trade fell off. He rigged up an outdoor movie and showed free pictures once a week. Crowds came from throughout this blue grass section.

Now Kennedy has converted his barn into a theater. Each Wednesday night movies are shown.

(P.S. Wyandotte's population is listed as 12 in the Rand-McNally atlas for 1946.)

Girl, 12, Proves She's Crack Shot

WELLSBURG, W. Va. —(AP)—Twelve-year-old Nancy Smith is a crack shot. Game Protector D. E. Keyser said that of more than 300 squirrel hunters he had checked during the first 10 ays of the season, the Hancock county girl was the only one to have the day's bag limit of four. Her father, Howard Smith, was still looking for his first kill.

Smith told the game protector his daughter had been hunting since she was 10 years old, and "she always outshoots me."

Earl Works As Porter And Likes It

LONDON—(AP)—The 73-year-old Earl of Clanwilliam, who has a noble pedigree dating back over 200 years, disclosed Saturday that he worked as a railway station porter during the war and liked it.

The earl, who also is properly addressed as Viscount Clanwilliam, or Baron Gillford, or Baron Clanwilliam, or the eighth baronet of Ballintubber, said he had answered a call for help in handling a freight problem during the war—and found himself actually handling the freight.

"The days of my work as a porter are among the happiest of my recollection," said the earl, a hero of the First World War.

Pupils Find Cotton Picking Pays Off

WINTERVILLE, Ga. — (AP) — School students here are finding their Thursday good neighbor policy pays. Every Thursday afternoon a group dons working clothes and helps pick cotton in some neighboring farmer's field.

In one recent afternoon, 32 youngsters harvested 1,200 pounds of seed cotton. They are paid regular rates for their work besides competing for theater tickets to the one picking the most cotton.

Pledge of Allegiance to Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

When Delegated Power Goes Haywire

ONLY a feeling of implicit confidence that "some way will be found" to placate John L. Lewis and his striking miners can account for the relative calmness of a majority of the American people in the face of hardships that will become more serious unless mining of soft coal is resumed within the next few days.

Effects of the miners' strike are already being felt and these will increase as conservation measures become more drastic, starting tomorrow when dimouts go into effect in many states to save electric current for vital needs.

Insofar as the attitude of Lewis and his associates is concerned, it appears that coal production could be tied up all winter . . . and there is no present assurance that this will not be done, as coal mining is a specialized job which cannot be taken over by any other group of workers.

Under the American system of government, which holds individual freedom in high esteem, nobody can be compelled to work—except as a penalty after conviction for some violation of law. This freedom also applies to group conspiracies which involve work stoppages ordered by dictatorial leaders—as in the case of the 400,000 idled miners.

Many are of the opinion that the legitimate purposes of organized labor, as recognized by a majority of the American people, are being ignored by ruthless leaders, and the fine "gains of labor" jeopardized by actions which serve to penalize the entire country while disputes are being settled.

Outstanding Exponents of Peace

FOR the eighth time, the Nobel Peace Prize has been awarded to an American, or rather, to two Americans, Emily Greene Balch of Boston, and Dr. John R. Mott of New York City.

In the words of the Foundation, this award is given to the person who has "most or best promoted the fraternity of nations, the abolition or diminution of standing armies, and the establishment and formation of peace congresses."

It is doubtful whether the average reader, upon being asked to name a likely candidate for this honor, would have named either of those to whom it was awarded. They are, however, internationally known, Miss Balch for her work as an economist with international interests, as a delegate to the International Congress of Women at the Hague in 1915, and as an officer of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom; Dr. Mott for international Y.M.C.A. work as well as for a lifetime devoted to spreading the Christian religion all over the world.

Miss Balch, at 79, and Dr. Mott, at 81, may well feel that their long lives dedicated to the highest aims have been crowned with a fitting reward.

What To Do With 'Too Big' Turkey

HERE'S another of those suggestions about how to bridge over the beef shortage, so that prices will come down to within reach. After careful study, the University of Nebraska concludes that "turkey steaks" will be a fine substitute for beef steaks.

The idea, as elaborated upon, is that big tom turkeys which weight from 20 to 25 pounds (or even more), are hard to sell because few home have ovens large enough to roast that sized bird. Therefore, it is pointed out, these sizes are usually considerably cheaper than the smaller ones.

Next, take one of those big turkeys, cut off the wings, legs, thighs and neck. Quick freeze the carcass and then slice it down crosswise. Resultant slices will be steaks about the size of two hands, and these will fry nicely in about 20 minutes.

Suggestion is: "Eat enough of these steaks and you won't miss beef. Eat them long enough and beef will come down."

So there you have it—on university authority—and you can now look around for a 25-pound turkey instead of the 10 to 12-pound one you had in mind.

Moving Toward 'One World' Concept

RECOGNITION of the "one world" idea is seen in a suggestion that churches drop the distinction between "home" and "foreign" missions. In a letter seeking funds for restoring the Episcopal church's mission at Kobe, Japan, completely destroyed by B-29s, appears the statement that "there is no such thing any more as 'foreign missions'." The plea is to emphasize the "oneness of the church," the worship of the same God.

This thinking is in line with the concept of real brotherhood, of bringing all peoples within the arc of a dignified humanity. It should go a long way to rid missionary programs of any suggestion of the superiority of one race over another. The convert becomes an equal, one with whom the missionary would share rather than on whom he would super-impose his religion. It's a new attitude, part of the "world federation" vision growing in the hearts of mankind.

Right To Criticise Judge Upheld

"NO RULE of law permits jail sentences and contempt fines because a newspaper thinks some judge has mistakenly stated the law." This defense of the freedom of the press came recently from the unanimous opinion of the Arkansas supreme court, freeing two Negro publishers for criticizing a Little Rock judge.

Though the judge cannot have liked the headline: "Strikers Sentenced to Pen by Hand-Picked Jury," other public officials generally receive adverse criticism without trying to jail their critics. Judges should not do so either, even if they have the power. In Arkansas the supreme court decision made it clear that this power is lacking.

There's a growing impression among listeners that some radio "comics" are trying to determine how close they can come to off-color stuff without crossing the line.

Present debate on whether rhubarb is a fruit or a vegetable still leaves unsettled the older controversy over whether or not rhubarb is edible.

One youth who complains that he has not yet "found himself" seems to devote only the nighttime to his search.

THE USHERS HAVE DIFFERENT IDEAS

Election Results Clearly Reveal Actual Workers Oppose Leaders

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

ONE of the most important aspects of the recent election was one which to date seems to have aroused little comment.

This is the obvious fact that some hundreds of thousands of union members obviously went to the polls and voted against the Democratic party against the directions of the CIO Political Action Committee and against the instructions of union leaders. Superficially, it appears these citizens did not feel that, with all the pampering of labor by the Democrats, the party had worked to the best interests, nor did they believe that the PAC had their best interests at heart. To some of them, the thought may have occurred that the Democratic party never really pampered the worker himself, but only the ambitious, politically-minded and sometimes unscrupulous labor leader. But these aspects are less important than the fact that in the recent elections the sentiments of the average worker were really heard for the first time in a good many years.

BROMFIELD

The policy of the average union is rarely determined by a genuine majority vote. This is so for a variety of reasons. Among the many is the indifference of the average union member, who does not take an active part in the determination of his union's policy and even fails to attend meetings.

The Communist and fellow-traveler element are always on hand working skillfully and often unscrupulously, to dominate policy.

And all too often union leaders possess such great personal power, as in the case of James C. Petrillo and Dan Tobin of the teamsters, that they do not even trouble to consult the average union members in matters of policy; they simply dictate policy and pose before government and public as the voice of the worker which, obviously, they are not.

There are many other reasons why under the present labor organization set-up, the voice of the average worker is seldom heard and why he becomes simply a faceless nonentity who pays dues and is exploited by the men at the head of his union.

Indeed, even the right to work or not work has been taken from him, along with the right to live as he chooses and the right to the rewards of ambition which are born of intelligence, application, thrift and hard work.

In short, the labor unions are, on the whole, about as democratic today as a Tammany government under Boss Tweed, and many leaders are as dictatorial, as ambitious and as corrupt as any Robber Baron of the Nineteenth Century.

This is not anti-labor talk. It is a mere statement of fact, well-known to millions of workers. Under the pampering of organized labor by the New Deal, the average worker—and certainly the average, independently - minded worker—has emerged largely as a faceless victim whose rights and the purchasing power of whose dollars have been curtailed rather than amplified by many actions of their leaders.

I think the average worker is becoming slowly aware that it is not more dollars but the increased purchasing power of the dollars he already receives that can give him the only real pay advance and a higher standard of living.

Strikes, feather - bedding, slowdowns, limits of daily production, opposition to incentive plans, all contribute only to raise the costs of every commodity from potatoes to automobiles.

And long, often indefensible strikes, not only raise the cost of everything which the average worker buys and thus nullify any gain in dollars he may achieve by striking, but actually take dollars away from him in the actual wages lost during the period of the strike.

Workers at the Ford plants this year lost more than 32 million dollars in wages only because men who supplied them with vital automobile parts went on strike in some distant city. The losses in wages to workers during the United Automobile Worker strike ran into hundreds of millions of dollars and at the same time raised the prices of the automobiles which the automobile workers, like the rest of us, must buy if he is to live in this century.

The pernicious claim of Walter Reuther and Henry Wallace that wages and costs could be raised without raising the prices of everything was exploded within a period of a few weeks. The shocking thing was that both men cynically and almost gaily admitted that they had been wrong and that they had gained their purposes regardless of the cost to the worker and every other citizen.

All they gained in reality was a sacrifice of hundreds of millions of dollars by workers, new scarcities and a rise in prices which amounted to a cut in wages in actual terms of purchasing power for Wallace's amorphous characterless Common Man.

Production lowers costs and raises the purchasing power of the dollar. It is the only real way to an increase in wages, salaries or profits for all of us.

Labor leaders have expressed alarm over the possible curtailing labor legislation which may arise from the overwhelming mandate at the elections.

They have reason for greater alarm over the fact that so many hundreds of thousands of their union members went to the polls to vote against the dictates of their leaders. Democracy may have gone out of some unions but it has not yet gone out of the ballot box. In three states measures to outlaw the closed shop were passed overwhelmingly.

Union leaders have less to fear from the possible legislative restrictions arising from the election than from the obvious revolt of their own members. Common sense can still speak through the ballot box.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Wednesday, Nov. 24, 1926.

Humane Society reported more calls for aid than in any month of its 43-year history.

Fire truck collided with automobile on Park avenue west at Mulberry while responding to false alarm.

Alfred H Harris, 26, died at his home, 49 High street.

Birth report: Son to Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Dudley, 208 Wayne street; son to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bush, Shelby avenue.

Wellington T. Leonard, secretary of Manufacturers club, was ill with pneumonia at his home on Penn avenue.

Charles R. Hofman, 60, died at his home, 298 Newman street.

Miss Margaret S Chalfant and Virgil L Farst were married by Rev W. Elmer Bailey.

* * *

50 YEARS AGO TODAY.

Baptist church sponsored a chrysanthemum fair which attracted much interest.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

On November 24, 1903, an uprising of insurgents in Santo Domingo forced the president and a group of officials to seek safety aboard a German war-vessel.

It Says Here:

—By KEN WOODMAN

NOW SUPPOSE a court, acting wholly within its rightful authority, ordered you to do something and you didn't do it. You would expect to be held in contempt and to pay a fine or go to jail.

* * *

But there are some honest folks who contend this shouldn't happen to John L. Lewis—particularly the jail sentence. They say it would make a martyr of him.

* * *

Well, if Lewis doesn't get the rap for defying the courts, he's certainly going to be a hero to his miners. Labor will have demonstrated that it is more powerful than the courts or the united opinion of the American public. If the government keeps on treating Lewis as though he were someone special, he's certainly going to keep on acting like it.

Byrnes Opposes Investigation of Germany By Senate Committee

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — For some strange reason, Secretary of State Byrnes has become awfully jittery about having a senate committee probe what's going on in Germany. He is putting all sorts of obstacles in the path of the old Truman committee's investigation of the reported breakdown of American morale in Germany and the secret flirtation of some U. S. business firms with Nazi cartels. Several members of the old Truman committee, now the Kilgore committee, flew up to New York for a session with Jimmie Byrnes regarding this, but he remained adamant. Behind him sat GOP Leader Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, smoking a cigar, quietly giving Republican support.

PEARSON

Significantly, the senators who interviewed Byrnes were all Republicans: Brewster of Maine, who will soon be the new GOP committee chairman; Ferguson of Michigan, who has usually cooperated with the Democrats; and Knowland of California, who recently defeated Will Rogers. Tom Connally of Texas, an inactive member of the committee since the various peace conferences, was also present. Senator Brewster carried the ball.

"When Claude Pepper gets up on the floor to criticise your policy with Russia, we are the ones who pin back his ears," Brewster told Byrnes, referring to his colleague, the senator from Florida. "But an investigation of what goes on in Germany is not deserting our nonpartisan foreign policy. After all, it was Harry Truman who sent both Republican and Democrat senators abroad to probe various phases of the Roosevelt administration all during the war."

Byrnes Says No.

Secretary Byrnes countered by suggesting that Lieut. Gen. Lucius Clay and other officials in Germany could come to the United States and be examined by the committee.

"We've always found it far more efficient to examine people on the ground," countered Senator Ferguson.

Byrnes, however, stuck by his guns. He was absolutely opposed to a senate committee's going to Germany. This caused Senator Knowland to remark:

"I was not particularly interested in the reported sexual aberrations of American troops in Germany or of black market porch-climbing until I found you were so anxious to keep us out. But since there have been several carefully conducted tours of newspapermen through Germany, I see no reason why U. S. senators should not have the same privilege."

Knowland, whose family operate an Oakland, Calif., newspaper, hinted that he did not think his colleagues of the press had been permitted to see anything in Germany, except what the army wanted them to see.

Finally Brewster brought up one of the most disturbing situations in Germany, the rumor that Secretary of the Navy Forrestal's old banking firm, Dillon, Read, has had its officials working in Germany to arrange tie-ups with Nazi cartels.

Before the war, links between I. G. Farben and U. S. companies caused serious damage to American defense.

"As you know," the senator from Maine reminded Byrnes, "the charges are that Dillon, Read was a very great factor in Germany in the 1920's, that General Draper, former vice president of Dillon, Read, is similarly identified, and that the connections and operations are the subject of bitter attack from our left-wing friends."

Complains of Pearson.

Brewster was referring to Gen. William H. Draper, former Wall Street partner of Secretary Forrestal, now head of the Economic Division of the American Military Government in Germany.

"I know nothing about these matters," replied Byrnes. "I did not know that Dillon, Read had been mentioned in connection with them at all. I haven't heard any rumors about it."

He went on to say that even if the senators held closed-door sessions in Germany, their findings were sure to leak out.

"I can't keep anything secret in the state department," he complained. "I can bring in the FBI to try to find out where the leaks come from. I have done it. I have had Drew Pearson send me word that he knows I am investigating him and that I am on the wrong track. He even knows if you try to find out where he gets the information.

"I think all of you have had that experience," continued the secretary of state.

Both Vandenberg and Connally stuck by their friend, the secretary of state, contending that a senate investigation in Germany would make us look bad in the eyes of the Russians. Final decision is now up to the full Senate War Investigating committee.

Natural Gas vs. Lewis.

It has now been more than a year since this column suggested that the only way to counteract John L. Lewis was to convert our two war-built, government-owned pipelines to natural gas. In the interim not a single move toward conversion has been made.

In the interim also millions of cubic feet of Texas and Louisiana natural gas have gone up in smoke and will never be recovered. Most people don't realize that this is one of our most valuable natural resources. Nevertheless, much of it is either burned up in Texas as waste gas, or allowed to escape. At some Texas oil wells, a constant blaze is kept going, night and day, in order to burn off surplus gas.

Reason for the government's failure to convert the Big Inch and Little Inch pipelines to gas is not entirely red tape, nor the secret opposition of John L. Lewis.

Vigorously pulling wires to keep the pipelines away from natural gas are the railroads and the coal operators. They are Lewis' secret allies.

Illustrative of this wire-pulling is a natural gas pipeline only ten miles miles from Washington, D. C., which brings gas from West Virginia. Originally constructed to feed the nation's capital, the coal industry and the railroads blocked the entrance of natural gas into Washington. They were bringing in coal which the gas company then converted into expensive artificial gas.

So for ten years West Virginia natural gas flowed to within sight of the nation's capital but was never permitted to come into the city. Only during the war was this finally changed. Now the West Virginia pipeline has been tapped, and Washington, at long last, is using cheap natural gas.

Note—Charming, naive Stuart Symington, when surplus property administrator, sent a report to congress that the government pipelines could only be used for oil—not natural gas. Now he claims he never saw this report, that somebody signed it for him. Now that Stuart is assistant secretary of war, wonder if orders for the shipment of atomic bombs are signed the same way?

"Mystery" Evaporates, Two Laughs Follow.

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — If you can maintain your sense of humor when several million dollars of taxpayers' money is involved, there's at least a couple of laughs over the government disposal of the Dodge-Chrysler plant in Chicago.

It isn't disposed of yet.

Worth nearly 200 million dollars, it recently was leased by the War Assets Administration to the Tucker Corporation of Chicago to make new cars.

National Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt protested and tried to lease it instead to the Lustron Corporation to build houses.

A great furor followed. During it, Preston Tucker, president of the firm of the same name, announced that a mystery lawyer had offered to cinch his lease by influencing government officials, if only he (Tucker) would kick through with large wads of moolah.

Tucker told reporters that he refused to be party to any such shenanigans, because he didn't approve of such shady operations and besides the guy didn't guarantee him anything, anyway.

Wyatt, feeling his good name was impugned, promptly called for the justice department to investigate this mysterious lawyer who claimed to have such potent powers about town.

Which brings us to laugh Number One.

A number of hotshot characters about the city (columnists, radio commentators and lobbyists) who notoriously love to be on the winning side, promptly took sides against Wyatt because he was a Democratic administration appointee—and, right now, it's popular to shoot at such guys.

In print and over the air waves, they blasted Wyatt and the Lustron Corporation, and seized on the "mystery lawyer" angle with avidity. Too late they learned their error and now are busy trying to pull in their horns.

For one thing, they found that there is nothing wrong with the Lustron Corporation that a little cash wouldn't cure. It's just another prefabricated house company—with nothing particularly to its credit or discredit.

But for another, they discovered the court record and the Dun and Bradstreet rating of their self-chosen champion.

The information contained in Docket No. 4188, filed on May 5, 1945, in the federal court of the Eastern district of Michigan, shocked some of the band-wagon boys no little. The fact that the civil suit finally was settled out of court didn't give them any peace of mind. They found out why it was settled out of court.

Checking the official financial status of the outfit they had chosen to champion gave the boys even worse jitters. All of a sudden, they got interested in other subjects.

And now for laugh Number Two.

It's the so-called "mystery lawyer" whom the justice department has been asked to investigate.

In the first place, there's no mystery about him. Everybody concerned with the case knows exactly about him. Everybody concerned with the case knows exactly who he is. He worked for the old United States Housing Authority back in the days when Nathan Strauss was chief cook and bottle washer.

The only reason I don't name him is that it now might be libelous because of all the nasty names he's been called in print, anonymously.

But the fast remains that, while he has little or no influence in the current housing administration setup, he merely was using the oldest lobbying trick in Washington.

He could prove he still knew "some of the guys" in the Housing Administration, and thus was "in" with them. (By the same token, I could claim to be "in" with the administration, because I used to play poker wth Mr. Truman.) So he tried to market that association at the highest possible price. Not a new trick, at all.

Why I Do Not Drive An Automobile.

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I DO NOT drive an automobile. If you knew me you would realize the necessity of this denial immediately. Since you don't know me I'll explain.

I like automobiles. I own one. I learned to drive one once and my son and husband drive it now.

But I no longer drive an automobile because the original experiment convinced me that I am not a fit subject to be loose on the public highway.

I'm sorry for that because I really liked driving. It was a delightful sensation. All I had to do was to put my foot down and press a little gadget and whoopee, off we went.

Then came a fateful time. After a cautious thirty hours of driving, my escort trusted me and went to sleep. That was a mistake. I immediately, if not sooner, pressed my foot down a little harder and accelerated the whoopee.

Very soon I was passing everything on the road.

It was a bad road. There were many curves in it. At one of the most treacherous curves a large vehicle loomed before me. It was filled with little children. There I was tearing along at 70 miles per hour.

There were only two things for me to do. I could either continue my pace and collide with the other vehicle or I could climb the bank and take my chances with God, which at best are slim.

I climbed the bank. I had about three feet leeway. How I ever got there will remain one of the unsolved mysteries of science. But I got there, and the children went safely on their way. And when my very handsome brunet escort awoke and saw where we were, he was no longer a brunet. He was an ash blond.

Since then I have never driven an automobile.

I realized once and for all that there are people who should never be permitted loose on the public highway. I am one of them. I get to thinking about a story or composing a poem or mixing a new salad or dreaming of a new hat or doing some other darn fool thing. Anything except driving. And I'm liable to end up on telegraph poles with mangled victims dangling beneath me.

Am I joking about this?

I am not.

I firmly believe that people like me—and other gorillas—should be restrained from monkeying with highly complicated machinery.

I am not trustworthy as a chauffeur. I would not even trust myself, so why should any highway trust me?

I am a public menace and I know it.

If I were a congressman I'd make a law about it. Since I am not they will continue to hand out automobile drivers' licenses as if they were crisp crunchies. But I for one don't want to pick any little child's spinal column out of my back hair.

I am bad enough as it is without being equipped with gasoline.

Dave Boone Says:

IF UNCLE SAM puts John Lewis in the hoosegow a lot of people hope it will be one that operates on soft coal, and that it has a warden who pays no attention to tenants who rap on the radiator for heat.

* * *

John would probably welcome a stay in the jug on the theory he could dramatize it into the world's greatest case of martyred eyebrows.

* * *

I see where both major labor organizations took a stand against the injunction. I wish some day they would take a stand against contempt for government, arrogance toward the presidency of the United States, and general nose-thumbing at our courts and the high public officials elected to safeguard all the things that make America such a liberal country.

* * *

But maybe you can't blame labor so much. For over a decade our government has been behaving as if it expected to be shoved around and would be annoyed if it weren't.

Timely Editorial

Eat Right, Live Long.

One of the most amazing and encouraging notes from the field of medical science is in a report by Dr. William DeKleine, Health Commissioner of Michigan, of a method, tested and proved, whereby maternal and infant crises at childbirth may be greatly reduced.

A lying-in hospital in Philadelphia recently prescribed a diet over a period of weeks for 2,000 expectant mothers, and compared the results with another 2,000 whose diet was not supervised.

In the diet-controlled group there was not one instance of difficulties at childbirth.

The diet, rigidly observed, was composed solely of milk, fresh (uncooked) fruit, vegetables—preferably the yellow and green, whole cereal, an egg or two a day, and meat once a day.—Detroit News.

Gideons Present 2,900 Bibles To City, County School Pupils

The Richland county Gideons society has already given 2,900 Bibles to city and county school pupils this fall and plans to distribute 1,100 more before the end of the school term, R. V. Hoover, president of the county society said yesterday.

During the past week, 1,400 New Youth Testaments were distributed as follows: 450, Shelby schools; 300, Butler; 340, Bellville, and 300 in Lexington. Previously 1,500 Testaments had been presented to Johnny Appleseed and John Simpson Junior high schools in Mansfield.

Presentations during the past week were made by Roy Stroup of Shelby, Ray Bush, R. H. Mount and Frank Poland of Mansfield and Francis Barr of Lexington.

Approximately 30,000,000 Testaments are needed to carry on the Gideons plan for combatting juvenile delinquency throughout the country.

Recent surveys have shown that only a small percentage of American young people between theages of 5 and 17 are affiliated with any church or Sunday school, and it is to meet this apparent need that the organization plans to present the Testaments to American school children, Hoover said.

Lost, Found Items Pile Up

BREMERHAVEN, Germany — (AP)—The Lost and Found department of this American entry port into Germany has a piggy bank, a picture of General MacArthur and a barrel of soap for whom it would like to find the owners.

The amount of unidentified household goods, shipped to Germany by American dependents, has grown so rapidly that a circular has been distributed with a description of the goods in hopes of finding the owners.

The list, which gives a clue to what dependents expect to find or not find in Germany, included: clothes pins, wash basin, a Sam Brown belt with munition carrier, light bulbs, a broom, a baby crib, a folding baby's bath, baby food, swing frames, a pale green silk bed cover, coffee maker and assorted pans, a suntan shirt, a clothes hamper, a maple chair, a folding bench grinder and two triangles.

And finally, a truck without identification and addressed to "Eldorado."

Michigan-State Classic Attracts Mansfielders

GOING to the game Saturday?" has been a part of many conversations this week preceding the annual gridiron classic, the Michigan-Ohio State game in Columbus.

Pigskin enthusiasts (those lucky ones with tickets) after the severe drop in temperature, pulled plaid blankets out of mothballs along with stadium boots, woolen mufflers, mittens and fur coats and advanced by train, automobile and bus to the "stamping grounds" of the scarlet and grey.

Composing many congenial groups, some waving the pendants of Ohio State, others cheering the blue and gold of the University of Michigan, were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Tolman Burns drove down to the game with Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Clark, while the John A. Parkers went with Dr. and Mrs. Harry Knox. Mr. and Mrs. Hal N. Craiger and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Palmer were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowers for the game. Motoring together to Columbus were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stander and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Brandenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tawse took their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wyley of Akron, to the game. On the way from Columbus, Ind., to Columbus, O., Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jelliff picked up Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stander.

Driving down with the Martin W. Brunners were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cummins. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Marquis and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Johnson, went together.

Also in the stands were Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Hout, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Endriss, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Muth and Mr. and Mrs. James Luby.

TEEN TALK

By BARBARA BAILEY

The senior class at Mansfield high is simply buzzing—the class jewelry arrived—gold, glittering, and "solid"—and this year it really is! Rings, pendants and pins are displayed proudly. Now the question is, "Who is wearing whose?"

* * *

Sartorial notes from the "Spring Dance": Frankie Lane wore one of those brightly figured wide belts—definitely "sharp." Dorothy Speck's fluffy, pink net formal with a keyhole neckline was one for the dreambook.

* * *

Ideal for winter basketball games are the snappy new bootie shoes of chamois worn by the fashion-wise. For comfort and style they even might replace the current vogue of plastic saddle-shoes, instead of the usual brown leather, the transparent plastic saddles show bright colored socks.

* * *

Tonsorial topic — trimmed or trailing? There's no preference this year as to the length of the girls' crowning glory. Hair cuts depend on the individual.

May We Introduce

MRS. LLOYD S. BARR

Among the many hobbies of energetic Mrs. Lloyd S. Barr is her "special one," the filming of colored motion pictures and pictorial stills which she has collected traveling through the Great Lakes region, the maritime provinces in the East, Ontario, Quebec and Alaska.

Many of Mrs. Barr's most interesting pictures were taken at the scene of the government plan in Alaska, known as the Matanuska valley project, where she visited the interesting colony of farmers from Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin who lost their lands during the depression. She traveled to Seward, Alaska by boat in 1938, taking a train over the coastal range of mountains to the colony in the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Barr, who live at 115 Poplar street, moved to the city last January from Detroit where Mrs. Barr was head of the department of English in Hunter junior high school. She has her A. B. degree from Michigan State Normal college and her Masters degree in English from the University of Michigan where she was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, national educational sorority, Pi Gamma Mu, national social science sorority and Stoic, sophomore honorary group.

A member of the American Association of University Women, Mrs. Barr is also affiliated with the First Presbyterian church, which includes memberships in Bethany circle and Circle 1. "My husband helped organize Mansfield's Nature club" said Mrs. Barr.

Trend to Fuel Oil Grows As Coal Users Become Tired of Strikes

FIGURES SHOW FASTER SHIFT BY INDUSTRIES

Bureau of Mines Statistics Indicate Steady Speedup in Conversions.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Dr. W. H. Young of the U. S. Bureau of Mines reported yesterday that industry's trend from coal to oil for fuel has speeded up since the war, with users citing mine strikes as a major reason for the shift.

The consumers give two principal reasons for changing over," he told a reporter. "One, it's more convenient and easier to handle petroleum, a fact which more than offsets the higher cost of oil. Two, consumers say they are tired of being tied up by strikes."

Mines bureau statistics for 1945 showed a decline in coal consumption in comparison with the use of other fuels—going back to a trend interrupted during the war when conversion to other fuels was restricted.

"We operate a canvass on a monthly basis of 12,000 large industrial plants," said Dr. Young, chief of the bureau's bituminous section.

"Every week we get two to half a dozen letters from manufacturers saying that they no longer consume coal and wish to be taken off the bituminous coal section lists. These are manufacturing plants, not two-by-four buildings and apartment houses.

"This conversion to gas and oil began to occur a few weeks after Japan's surrender."

An official of the solid fuels administration said there is little likelihood of small factories and domestic consumers converting to oil in large numbers at present, simply because of inability to get equipment.

A bureau of mines study of the percentage of the total energy supply contributed by mineral fuels in the United States showed that in 1936, the coal percentage was 53.3 percent. In 1940 it was 49.3 percent. During the war years, coal came into heavier demand, and in 1942 contributed 52.7 percent.

The coal percentage declined from 53.3 percent in 1944, to 51.3 percent in 1945.

Oil Gains In 1945.

The percentage contributed by oil increased from 29.6 percent in 1936 to 35.1 in 1938, declined to 28.2 in 1942, and rose to 30.7 in 1944 and 33.1 percent in 1945.

The contribution of natural gas increased from 10.2 percent in 1936 to 12.1 in 1945, then regressed somewhat during 1945 to 11.3 percent.

In terms of B. T. U. (British Thermal Units, or the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water one degree fahrenheit), the annual supply of energy from coal increased from 12,989 trillion in 1936 to 16,576 trillions in 1945.

During the same period, energy from fuel oil increased from 6,792 trillions to 10,712 trillions, and natural gas from 2,330 to 3,662 trillions.

5 INDIA PROJECTS COST $4,350,000

NEW DELHI —(AP)— The development of India's natural resources and industry is the aim of a long-range government scheme for the setting up of five national laboratories estimated to cost about $4,350,000.

The first foundation stone already has been laid at Calcutta for the Central Glass and Ceramic Research Institute. Second on the list is the Fuel Research Institute at Digwadith. National Metallurgical Laboratory also has been started at Jamshedpur.

Building of the National Physical Laboratory at Delhi and the National Chemical Laboratory at Poona, near Bombay, will begin in January.

FUNNY CONCLUSION

1,000 EGGS IN EVERY HEN
IF YOU KEEP CHICKENS
CUT THIS OUT
"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of the hen was too short," said Henry Trafford, nationally famous Poultry Expert, for nearly eighteen years Editor of "Poultry Success."
The average pullet may lay 150 eggs or more—in second year may lay 100. Then she goes to market. Yet it has been definitely established that every pullet hatched has from 1,000 to 3,000 minute egg germs in her system—and may, in many instances, be made to lay on a highly profitable basis for as long as five years—if given proper care.
How to work to get up towards 1,000 eggs from hens instead of discarding them after one year of laying; how to keep up high production from fewer birds, save on upkeep, cost of breeding, rearing and feeding, and so get more net profits from every dozen eggs. These and many other money-making poultry secrets are in Mr. Trafford's 1,000 EGG HEN PLAN of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent to any reader of this paper who keeps poultry. Eggs, this year, will again be in great demand—at good prices—to take the place of high price meat. Means real profit to the poultry keeper who can make his birds produce. Mr. Trafford's plan tells how. If you keep chickens and want them to pay with EXTRA EGGS, cut out this notice and mail name and address to PENN POULTRY SERVICE, Suite 531, 333 North 15th St., Philadelphia (2), Pa., and free copy of the 1,000 EGG PLAN will be sent by return mail.—Adv.

Literary GUIDEPOST

By W. G. Rogers

LEO TOLSTOY, by Ernest J. Simmons (Atlantic-Little, Brown; $7.50).

THIRTY-SIX years ago this month, in a Russian village to which he fled from his hysterical, perhaps even deranged wife Sonya, the novelist and moralist Tolstoy, 82, genius with few peers in modern times, died.

Sonya is the keynote, or symbol of the keynote, to his life. In youth before he found her, his inordinate passions were spent on any girl available. In the early tranquil years of the marriage which resulted in 13 births, he produced "War and Peace" and "Anna Karenina." In later years, when he said that "always the most poignant tragedy was, is and ever will be the tragedy of the bedroom," he adopted a sort of "Christian anarchism," cast aside worldy wealth and split Sonya into two irreconcilable personalities: The woman who at heart loved him madly, and the practical woman who fought to preserve an inheritance for her children.

Tolstoy's mother died when he was two, his father when he was nine; he yearned unceasingly for people whose love for him would be as deep and expansive as the love he could feel for them. Happily he got a full return from Sonya, who only eight years before his death, while her battle with Chertkov raged toward its furious climax, could say: "For everyone else he is a celebrity, for me he is all my being."

The police of various czars spied on him, arrested his followers; the church excommunicated him; the peasants did not always understand the bearded giant who dressed in rags like theirs, did menial work, shared their poverty.

Though the drama in most writers occurs in youth or soon after, in Tolstoy it intensified as he aged, and more than half of Simmons' more than 800 pages concerns the years when, the two greatest novels written, there remained the profound personal tragedy. It's like a plot for a novel, and in this book, both scholarly and creative, Simmons has made the most of it.

Life-Long Interest In Steel Pays Off for Army Veteran

A life long interest in working with steel is now paying dividends to Richard Nixon, 250½ Marion avenue, this week's "veteran in business for himself.

Proprietor of the Farm Repair shop on Cook road, Nixon said that he does "about anything in welding and blacksmithing except shoeing horses."

"I was born in Mansfield. From 1924 to 1936 I lived in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and graduated from high school there.

"Returning to Mansfield in 1936 I went to work for the Mansfield Construction and Wrecking company where I gained much experience in steel fabrication of all kinds.

In June 1941, I went into the army and was assigned to the corps of engineers. I saw 51 months service 38 of them overseas."

"Being interested in steel work I saw an opportunity after my discharge to take over this place. I am kept busy with tool-sharpening contracts from many Mansfield contractors.

"I also build trailers and do repair work," he said, pointing to a lift he had just built from a completely wrecked truck.

"Farm repair work is another line that keeps coming in," Nixon added.

"My hobby right now is working around the house I just bought. I'm a member of the Eagles and the Chamber of Commerce. Just don't have the time for more," he concluded, as he turned to some of the work awaiting his attention.

AUTOS TO RESTAGE MORMON'S TREK

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—Automobiles will take the place of ox-carts when the Sons of Utah Pioneers next year re-enact the 1847 westward trek of Brigham Young's Mormon colonizers.

A party of 143 men, three women and two children—matching the numbers of the original expedition—will start from Nauvoo, Ill., one of the Mormons' earlier headquarters, next July 14. All members will be descendants of pioneers.

The trip will feature campfire stops with the automobiles drawn up in a circle, as pioneer wagons were aligned in defense against Indian attacks.

SENIOR HIGH NEWS—

Senior High Students Will Hear Famous Mimic at Next Assembly

By DAVID BARNHILL
"AMERICANA"

Beulharz, an artist of drama, who has become very adept at imitating characters, will present an assembly entitled "Americana" to the student body in the Mansfield Senior high school auditorium Tuesday, Nov. 26.

BARNHILL

For 30 years Beilharz has been touring the U. S. and the provinces of Canada and has gained a reputation for his clever make-ups. His well-chosen characters are to include simple folks of America just before the turn of the last century. The students are expected to shake the auditorium with laughter when they see this program.

Perhaps he is most famous for his representation of the "Hoosier Schoolmaster" by Eggleston.

Beilharz holds the constant attention of his audience because of his ability to change in just a few moments from one character to another. One minute he is perfectly natural, and in the next he has changed his personality and features in such a way that he appears to be an entirely different person.

HYFUN DANCE

Students will not be without entertainment next Friday night. The HyFun club is sponsoring a dance at the YMCA and Bill Leicy's orchestra will furnish music from 8:30 until 11:30 p. m. Admissions prices are 60 cents per couple and 35 cents single.

The committees for the dance are: Doris Alverson, John Parks and Janet Delaney, publicity; James McGraw, Joan Freeland, Richard Flockenzier, decorations.

PHOTOGRAPHY COMPLETED

Seniors are breathlessly opening the large envelopes containing their finished portraits and individual pictures of the underclassmen have been taken. Organizations' pictures are finished and the copy is on its way to the engravers.

All the wheels are in motion to make the 1947 book a bigger, better Manhigan.

Mrs. Margaret Conrad, advisor, regrets that it is not possible to sell copies of Manhigan photographs, since they must be retained until the year book is released.

The aim of the Manhigan staff is to get the book out by Class Day.

Sophomore year book staff candidates are asked to see Mrs. Conrad. Requirements are interest in serving and a "B" average in scholastics.

Sophomores who do become members of the Manhigan staff can look forward to plenty of hard and interesting work, plus the fun always derived from things of this type.

SENIOR CHOIR TO APPEAR

Tonight the senior division of the a cappella choir will appear at the First Methodist church in a concert. Two guest soloists, Lynn Decker, pianist; and Harold Haugh, tenor, will appear on the program also.

Lynn Decker, a graduate of Mansfield high school, is now studying at the Oberlin conservatory. He was formerly a pupil of Margaret B. Hall. He will also accompany the singer.

Harold Haugh is the head of the voice department at the Oberlin conservatory. He has done a lot of concert singing, having recently presented a recital at Town Hall in New York City. He has also appeared in the annual Bach Festival at Baldwin Wallace college. Among his selections will be three numbers from the Messiah.

The choir under the direction of A. L. Derr will sing a group of sacred numbers.

Look at Nylons Forget Bruises!

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—(AP)—After Olive Mae Mulica of Denver fell into a manhole she assured Police Chief I. B. Bruce that she didn't want any monetary damages from the city for minor personal injuries but—

She very definitely does want the municipal fathers to replace the nylons torn in the mishap.

BIG COME-DOWN

LOVELL, Me.—(AP)—Atop a 30-foot tower on the outskirts of this Maine village stands the siren which alerted residents of New York City from the top of the Empire State building for possible air raids during the war years. Now it is used as a fire alarm signal, operated by remote control from the local telephone office switchboard.

By WALTER WHITE

"I hold thee fast, Africa," exclaimed Julius Caesar in 47 B. C. and Jan Christian Smuts echoes his statement 1993 years later.

On November 13th the premier of the Union of South Africa angrily and unequivocally told the United Nations Trusteeship committee at Lake Success that if the Union's demand that it be permitted to "annex" the former German colony of Southwest Africa is denied, the Union will continue to administer it, United Nations or no United Nations.

It is important to world peace to understand the implications of this undisguised threat. Weak and evasive as are the trusteeship proposals adopted at San Francisco for the governance of so-called colonial and mandated areas, they do represent a very modest plan to raise the living standards of the inhabitants of such regions and to guide them towards eventual self-government and independence. Proposals for regular inspection of these places were bitterly fought and defeated but regular reports of progress are required which at least will require the semblance of some improvement of the status of the native population.

WHITE

If Southwest Africa with its vast mineral and agricultural resources were placed under a United Nations trusteeship arrangement, some likelihood of raising the standards of living and hope of the most cruelly exploited human beings on earth could be expected. But if the Union of South Africa is permitted to annex Southwest Africa, its natives would thereby become "citizens" of the Union and the United Nations could do precisely nothing about their fate.

The treatment of natives and of immigrant groups like Indians in both the Union of South Africa and in Southwest Africa is infinitely worse than the very worst treatment given Negroes in the most backward sections of Mississippi or of Jews in Nazi Germany.

Southwest Africa consists of three hundred and seventy thousand square miles in which live three hundred and fifty-nine thousand persons. Only thirty thousand of these are white, most of them recent immigrants from the Union of South Africa which was awarded a mandate over the colony after World War I.

The government is in the hands of a white administrator who makes and executes all the laws. He is advised by a counsel elected solely by the white inhabitants. Natives who originally owned the land are absolutely powerless under a white dictatorship more absolute than was Russia under the czars or Germany under Hitler.

Thirty-one per cent of the land —which means the best land—has already been allocated to the whites and twelve million additional acres are ready for alienation. There are no government schools and only eighty-three mission schools for native and colored children in the entire colony. The government gives very meager token aid to these schools.

Describes Poverty.

Illiteracy, poverty and disease are rife throughout the colony among the native population. Over one hundred million dollars has been invested in the mines of Southwest Africa which are operated by what is virtually slave labor. Such has been the mandateship by the Union of South Africa which now demands the right to annex the colony which would mean that even the meager protection which the League of Nations attempted to require of nations holding mandates over colonies would be no longer required.

This is what Smuts' demand on the United Nations means.

If Smuts' defiance succeeds, we may as well disband the United Nations and the peace conference and spend the money and time as speedily and feverishly as possible preparing for the outbreak of World War III. Remember Mussolini's defiance of the League of Nations regarding Ethiopia?

In words no more belligerent than Smuts' the Italian dictator told the League of Nations that Italy would invade and use whatever force or other methods it deemed in its own judgment were necessary to subjugate the hapless African country without regard to what the League said or did. The League simultaneously signed its own death warrant and the order for World War II when it capitulated to Italy.

Is something not new but tragically old inherent in Smuts' defiance which will destroy the bright hopes of a lasting peace through the instrument of the United Nations unless met? The next few weeks will provide the answer. To the great credit of the United States it announced through John Foster Dulles that this nation opposes the demand of the Union of South Africa.

We therefore line up on the side of Soviet Russia and against Great Britain which, understandably in the light of Britain's determination to hold on to her empire as long as she can get away with it, sided vigorously with Smuts.

But, unfortunately, our own position is anomalous, to put it as gently and generously as possible. Smuts did not hesitate to point out that he was following the example of the United States which only the week before had announced it was taking certain Pacific bases and would brook no interference in that action.

There are undoubtedly sound military reasons why we do not want Russia, for example and in particular, knowing or interfering or sharing in what we do in the way of fortification of Guam or Saipan. But either we as a nation must play the string out and really go the whole way in building a peace structure or else say quite frankly we do not believe such machinery can be created.

U. N.'s fate and yours and mine are dependent upon what is done on Smuts' defiance. Any semblance of yielding or temporizing with the issue will be disastrous. Two-thirds of the people of the world who have brown, yellow or black skins anxiously watch the struggle.

When Russia sold oil to Mussolini for the conquest of Ethiopia and when we sold scrap iron to Japan to aid it in the war on China, we told these hundreds of millions of human beings that profits and military considerations took precedence over principle. Any surrender whatever to Smuts' demands regarding South Africa will mean destruction of almost the last fragments of hope for the natives of Africa and colored people all over the world.

ROMANIANS FLOCK TO U. S. EXHIBIT

BUCHAREST—(AP)—More than 200,000 Romanians attended a month-long exhibition depicting life in America which was put on here by the U. S. Office of Information. During the month 30,000 copies of American magazines and 15,000 maps of the United States were also distributed.

The exhibit consisted of approximately 500 enlarged photographs showing such government projects as the Tennessee Valley Authority as well as scenes of American home life, private industry and transportation.

Attendance at first was slow because of an intensive Anti-U. S. propaganda drive, according to officials. However, the high-point occurred when the Communist-controlled general federation of labor urged Bucharest factories to organize parties of workers to see the exhibition.

5 Shell Workers To Receive Bonus

Five employes of the Shell Oil company's Mansfield office are in line for a week's pay cost-of-living bonus, C. E. Wass, district manager, said last night.

The company plans to distribute a bonus of one week's basic wages Dec. 2 to all employes, except officers, on the payroll Nov. 16.

Locally, two salesmen, a service station manager, a foreman and the district manager, are eligible for the bonus.

Love's Wonderful Thing, Sometimes

OLNEY, Ill. —(AP)— John E. Boatman and Laura M. James gave their ages as 76 as they applied for a marriage license. Deputy Clerk Myra Piper said Boatman was asked if "it isn't a little late," to which the bride-elect readily admitted her intended was "old enough to know better."

FRIENDLY MOOSE

DARBY, Mont. —(AP)— Moose are traditionally tough customers and are treated with respect even by hunters armed with heavy rifles, but here's what happeneded here the other day when a big cow moose wandered into town: First she amused children by cavorting among swings and teeter-totters in a school play yard. Then she jumped a fence to mingle with domestic cattle only to be put to flight by the charge of a Jersey heifer.

BAD TIME FOR ALL

INDIANAPOLIS —(AP)— Butler University alumni wrote their homecoming celebration off as complete frustration. The homecoming queen was accidentally locked out of the stadium coronation ceremony. A prankster set a premature match to some bonfire wood. And 4,000 persons cashed in their tickets when the orchestra failed to appear for the homecoming dance.

Wobble of Earth Laid to Air Shift

LONDON —(AP)— The earth's wobble, observed long ago by astronomers, has been traced to great air masses which accumulate over Europe and Asia during the winter and pull back towards the oceans in the summer, says the Soviet Science News.

The publication records a report by V. Shuleikin to the Soviet Academy of Sciences on the results of a study of seasonal atmospheric fluctuations. Shuleikin and his colleagues estimate there are 300 billion tons more air over Europe and Asia in winter than in summer. The great movement of this air, they say, gives rise to late frosts in spring and Indian summer in autumn. The shifting weight is so great, they add, that it causes the earth to wobble.

FBI Seeks Stenographers, Clerks for Capital Posts

The Federal Bureau of Investigation will conduct interviews on Monday, Nov. 25, in Mansfield for all male and female applicants for clerical and stenographic positions for immediate employment in the FBI at Washington, D. C., according to E. C. Richardson, special agent in charge of the Cleveland field division.

Special Agent R. G. Pumphrey will interview applicants at the Mansfield police department in the city building between 7 and 9 p. m. Monday.

Applicants who are accepted will go into immediate employment at the entrance salary for typists and clerks of $1954 per year and for stenographers of $2168 per year with opportunity for advancement. Applicants must be high school graduates, citizens, in good physical condition, and between the ages of 18 and 25.

Also, male college graduates between the ages of 25 and 40 are needed for appointments as special agents, and may obtain further information concerning applications at this time.

Pumphrey urged that anyone interested apply at the Mansfield police department in the city building and suggested that they bring with them a bust photograph approximately 3x5 inches in size.

STUDY HEALTH METHODS

GREELEY, Colo. — Aili Esteni Nuppola, of Finland, Karin Maria Lundgren, of Sweden, and Terbjerg Svege, of Norway, are in Greeley, Colo., making a study of the county health department. The trio are nurses and their visit is sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation and the University of Colorado. They are studying nursing methods in Colorado, they say, because the size of the state health department corresponds to the size of organizations in their own countries.

JONES ELECTED MASTER

BUCYRUS—J. E. Jones, West Charles street, was elected master of Bucyrus lodge 139 Free and Accepted Masons at the election Tuesday night. He will succeed Ivan T. Mack. Other officers elected were Elmer Connor, senior warden; O. L. Martin, junior warden; Cleo Gebhardt, treasurer; C. N. Beal, secretary; Charles Wiles, trustee; Clayton Brooks, senior deacon; E. M. Crum, junior deacon and G. W. Cox, tyler.

Lake Explodes, Kills Its Fish

BRISBANE—(AP)—Lake Nooga Nooga, normally a five-mile-wide expanse in the Carnarvon Range, South-East Queensland, has disappeared.

The water's edge receded rapidly following a muffled explosion from the direction of the lake heard on Christmas Eve, 1944, and today only a strip of damp mud remains.

The explosion, believed to have been a subterranean disturbance, killed all the fish in the lake. One theory is that the disturbance opened a connection with an underground shale layer through which the water flowed away.

ACTIVITY UP AT CITY PORT

Interest in flying was on the up-swing here during the past week with several hundred Mansfielders attending the National Aircraft show at Cleveland airport and with approximately 60 itinerant planes stopping at municipal airport.

Airport officials reported that from 50 to 60 personal planes stopped at the field either for refueling or to see the new port and Sky club.

Registration sheets showed that fliers landed here from widely scattered points throughout the west. One pilot checked his ship in at municipal airport after a non-stop flight from Tucson, Ariz.

Two Mansfielders who helped to make the aircraft show a success were John W. Vogt and Robert Hunt, both employes of Harrington Air Service. Vogt helped out at the Cessna exhibit while Hunt was explaining the qualifications of the "Seabee" to visitors at the show.

Air traffic at municipal airport during the week ended Saturday also included from six to 10 huge Army C-47 and C-54 transports that landed to load supplies from the Shelby depot.

Visitors at municipal airport during the week included Gordon Sleeper and Jesse Gaugh of Republic Aviation corporation, Farmingdale, L. I. Sleeper is sales manager of the personal plane division and Gaugh is a pilot and sales representative for that company.

A Nixie's No Pixie But It Makes Trouble For Postoffice Employes

By AL PREYER

This is the sad tale of a post office "nixie."

If ever, as a child, you were lost—couldn't find your way home, and were finally rescued by a kind policeman you'll appreciate the story of a "nixie."

In this case the "policeman" is the postoffice and a "nixie" is a letter which, because of its improper address, has no destination.

Daily these "nixies," products of the adages that "haste makes waste," pile up in the postoffice until, over a week's time, there are from 350 to 500 of them.

During rush seasons, the pile up in the postoffice until, over a week's time, there are from 350 to 500 of them.

During rush seasons, the pile up is almost phenomenal. Last Christmas, for example, by the end of the rush postoffice officials were scratching their heads over the problem of what to do with 44,000 "nixies."

Since most of these "nixies" were travelling third class, they were not legally entitled to the service which first class "nixies" get—a directory search. However, Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford and his staff try to see that even these are forwarded or returned to senders.

What happens to "nixies" for which no clue is found? They lie in the postoffice for a stipulated time, then are opened for clues that may be on the inside which will enable postoffice employes to forward or return the letters to the sender. If valuables are found a report is made to the postoffice department. If nothing is found the "nixies" are destroyed.

NIXIE BOSS. George H. Hoover, in addition to other postoffice duties, has charge of postoffice 'nixies.' A nixie is an improperly addressed letter for which postoffice employes can find no destination. Piled on his desk are only a few among many received each day at the postoffice.

"If people only knew that we spend approximately eight hours a day trying to get nixies on their way, and that this time could better be spend in expediting the delivery of correctly addressed mail, I'm sure they'd be more careful," postoffice officials said.

An address worth giving is worth giving well—completely, clearly, and in ink with complete return address in the upper left hand corner to prevent its going astray is the motto of all postoffice employes.

LAWYER FOLLOWS SONS INTO AIR

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind. —(AP)—Walter E. Prentice, 59-year-old Jeffersonville attorney, believes in keeping up with his sons.

Two of them, Robert J. Prentice, 29, and Dixon W. Prentice, 27, decided to take flying lessons. The father followed suit.

"They tried to tell me I was too old, but I think I've convinced them you're never too old to learn," said Prentice senior.

All three have soloed, preparatory to receiving a private pilot licenses. A third son, Dr. Wilson E. Prentice, a Jeffersonville dentist, has been flying for years.

PLUGS FOR PENSIONS

BOGOTA—(AP)—An official bulletin shows that 18 of 57 horses in the garbage collection department have worked for the city 20 years or more. One newspaper commented that according to municipal regulations all workers should be retired on a pension after 20 years of service.

OHIO 'BLUE BABY' CURED—Patricia Weider, 9, of Canton, starts back to school Monday after a delicate heart operation in Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore snatched her from a rapidly approaching death as a "blue baby." ## POLES, REDS FIX BORDERS

WARSAW, Poland — (AP) — A mixed Soviet-Polish demarcation commission is winding up its work of making minor rectifications in Poland's frontiers and all maps will be finished and documents ready for signing by next January 1, it was officially announced.

Doctor Zaruk-Michalski, vice minister of public administration and chairman of the Polish delegation, said in an interview that the commission has striven to avoid splitting villages or boroughs in fixing frontier lines and that the Poles had found "the greatest understanding and friendliness" on the part of the Soviet union.

Minor revisions considered by the commission affected small areas in the Trans-Carpathian Ukraine, along Poland's eastern border line, in former East Prussia and along the Baltic in the Stettin area.

Zaruk - Michalski reported the Soviet-Polish frontier, exclusive of the East Prussian areas, covers approximately 655 miles.

FINANCIAL JITTERS

BRUSSELS, Belgium — The international situation and recent financial developments have brought a growing attack of "jitters" to Belgium in the past few days. Black market money exchange rates—always a barometer of public sentiment—registered an upward move during the week. British sovereigns rose from 1,225 to 1,500 Belgium francs while United States currency jumped from 55 to 65 Belgian francs for the dollar.

Butler Resident, 85, Recalls 'Old Days' When Village Was Young

JASON NICHOLS TELLS TALES OF OLD RIVALRIES

Competition With Bellville Cited By Old-Timer.

By GEORGE SATTLER

Once a rip-roaring railroad boom town where whiskey sold for two dollars a gallon and a Bellville man's life was worth "less than a 'chaw' of tobacco," Butler today has subsided into the peaceful, quiet ways characteristic of most Richland county communities.

That's the way Jason Nichols, born in a log cabin in Butler 85 years ago and a village resident ever since, jokingly sizes up his native town.

"Now the only thing that gets Butler stirred up is our century-old rivalry with Bellville," Nichols grinned.

"Whenever we play Butler in basketball and football, the whole town turns out, and there's always sure to be a minor riot or two," he said with relish.

Butler, which lies about 19 miles south of Mansfield on the B. and O. railroad, is just a few miles east of Bellville.

However, there was a time when the rivalry went much deeper. When the railroad came to the town in the 1840's, Butler—then known as Spohntown—began to grow and prosper. Bellville merchants, who at that time had a monopoly on trade in the vicinity, became alarmed over the growth of the new community, fearing new stores there would run them out of business.

"Bellville kicked up such a row, we changed the name of the town to 'Independence,' just to show them what we thought of their attitude," Nichols said, recalling what old-timers had told him in his youth.

Although there has been a settlement on the site where Butler now stands since 1820, the first village, Spohntown, was not incorporated until 1848. Spohntown became "Independence" shortly afterwards and was known by that name for 40 years.

"We finally called the village 'Butler' in about 1888 after General William O. Butler, hero of the Mexican war, to agree with the name of our postoffice," Nichols said.

At one time Butler was a thriving village with three taverns, a bank, glass factory, furniture and ax-handle factory, planing mill, a foundry, and a number of gristmills.

Today, except for a small welding plant and a toy factory, there is no industry in the town.

"We don't have a hotel or tavern anymore," Nichols sighed. "Even our bank went our of business over 10 years ago."

Commerce in Butler now includes four groceries, a drugstore three garages, and a furniture store.

However, Butler's population has remained at about 800 for a hundred years. Reason for this, according to Nichols, is that many people who work in Mansfield or Mt. Vernon make their homes there.

Butler was the scene of one of the state's worst train wrecks in 1872.

"Although I was only a lad then," Nichols recalled, "I remember it vividly. The wreck was especially tragic because the train was filled with holiday seekers, who had been at the state fair in Mansfield.

"It happened right in the village when the train coming from Mansfield ploughed into another train which was backing into a siding.

"The crash was followed by screams and cries of panic. At least five were killed and many injured. I can still remember the bodies which were hauled from the wreckage and placed on village lawns.

"It was easily the most tragic day in Butler's history."

VILLAGE OF BUTLER—Once a rip-roaring railroad town, Butler today is one of the many peaceful villages which populate the rich valleys of historic Richland county. Although there has been a settlement on the site where Butler now stands since 1820, the village was not incorporated until 1848, when railroads passed through the town. With a population of about 800, Butler lies 19 miles south of Mansfield on the B. and O. railroad. Photo top left shows Lee F. Beverly, left, Butler postmaster, talking over the old days with Jason Nichols, who has lived in the village for 85 years. Bottom left shows Butler's Main street as it looks today. At right is Rummel mill, east of Butler, which in the old days ground grain for farmers in the vicinity. The mill is out 100 years old.—(Photos by George Petrovic, News-Journal staff photographer.)

COLUMBIAN HIT AFTER QUARREL

ATLANTA—(AP)—The president of the anti-Jewish, anti-Negro Columbians was knocked to the floor yesterday in a judge's chamber by a husky assistant attorney general in the climax of an argument over the organization's charter.

"Dad blame it, I've taken all I can from you," yelled Dan Duke as he struck Emory C. Burke with his fist, opening an inch-long gash over his left eye.

His face covered with blood, Burke staggered to his feet to shout back that "you'll answer for this."

Duke said he swung after a "tirade" in which Burke implied he was not a "white Anglo-Saxon public official."

The flareup climaxed a session in the chambers of Superior Judge E. E. Pomeroy in which the organization won a six-day postponement of the state suit to revoke its charter. Duke has been representing the state in this suit as he has in similar action against the Ku Klux Klan.

Duke left the judicial chambers at the suggestion of Judge Pomeroy, who said: "I'll handle this." Duke asked the judge to call a doctor and said he would pay Burke's medical expenses.

The judge first told newsmen he "was considering" action against both Duke and Burke but later said he would "take no cognizance" of it, explaining his "back was turned" and he "didn't see any of it."

Earlier, during a heated argument over the suit Duke called Phil W. Davis, Columbian attorney, a "bald-faced liar."

"I am sorry that I was unable to control myself," Duke said in a statement dictated to newsmen from his office.

INTENDED VICTIM SEIZES ATTACKER

A 17-year-old North Mulberry street youth who reportedly attempted to slug William V. Hartman, Ashland road service station operator, with a glove-encased length of chain, was in city jail last night booked on an investigation charge.

Hartman told officers that the youth came into the station about 2:15 p. m. yesterday to get out of the cold. Shortly afterward, the youth attempted to strike him from behind, Hartman said, but he grabbed the youth's arm and took the glove-bound chain away from him.

Not long after police arrested the boy, his mother, who lives on Coul street, came to headquarters to report that the boy had been missing from home since Monday, officers said.

1,000 MEMBERS WILL REPRESENT 76,000 CLUBS

Delegates Selected Regionally For Best Performances.

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A thousand American boys and girls, pick of the nation's farmsteads, will descend on Chicago next week for the 25th congress of 4-H clubs in session, Dec. 1 to 5.

The 4-H clubs are part of the national system of extension work in agriculture and home-making in which the U. S. department of agriculture, land grant colleges and counties participate. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 21 who agrees to "learn by doing" may enroll.

The boys and girls who attend the congress will represent some 1,700,000 members of 76,000 4-H clubs located in virtually all counties of the United States and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The congress, held annually in Chicago, is sponsored by the National Committee on boys and girls clubs.

The young delegates to the congress are selected regionally for best performance in raising meat animals, growing field crops and gardens, making clothing and nutritious meals, community service and leadership. They are given scholarships, savings bonds, gold medals and other prizes for outstanding achievements.

* * *

Chief discussion topic to be tackled by the farm youngsters is: "How best to serve as citizens in maintaining world peace." Working for peace is one of 10 objectives in the post-war program of 4-H clubs. Among the others are producing food and fiber, creating better homes, conserving resources, building health and developing the community.

The delegates will visit the international livestock exposition, make a tour of museums, and attend a ballroom party. They will sit in on a radio network broadcast and a round of breakfasts, luncheons and dinners.

Club members this year grew victory garlens on 150,000 acres, produced food crops on 350,000 acres, raised 11 million head of poultry and 750,000 head of livestock. They canned 33 million quarts of fruits and vegetables, repaired farm machinery, made and repaired clothes, took training in first aid and home nursing.

The expression 4-H represents the training of head, heart, hands and health. The 4-H emblem is a four-leaf clover with a letter "H" on each leaf. Each club member gets valuable business training by keeping a record of costs, labor and results of his project. He explains the work to other youngsters, makes an exhibit and writes a final report which summarizes the whole year's work.

Retiring Police Officer, 71, Believes 'Olden' Days Better

GALION—Ed Hoekstra, 71-year-old night desk man of the Galion police department, is going to quit Nov. 30—after more than 20 years of service as a public guardian of law and order.

Working under six different chiefs and three mayors, Hoekstra has witnessed many changes in the police force and in the everyday lives of Galion citizens.

Although he has more than two score years of service to his credit, the retiring desk officer said they were not consecutive. He first became a patrolman before "prohibition" days when "saloons closed at 11 p. m. and such places were a sanctuary for men."

EDWARD HOEKSTRA

After three years of pounding a beat, he had a change of heart and gave up police work. But later changed his mind once more and worked as an "extra" for several years. And his last "stretch" has been of 14 years duration, he said.

* * *

REMINISCING a bit, Hoekstra said that when he first went on the "force," there were just four patrolmen and all working nights from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m., seven days a week and 52 weeks a year. The chief took care of the city's welfare alone during the day, he said.

But things are a bit different now. The chief has two patrolmen on day duty and at night four officers, in addition to the desk man, guard the city. "Working conditions have been considerably improved since the department became affiliated with the Fraternal Order of Police.

"We now work 48 hours a week, with one day off each week, and each year we have two weeks of vacation with pay," Hoekstra said.

Commenting on the morals of the city, the veteran police officer remarked that the days before prohibition were "better." Now the city's cafes and night spots are open until as late as 3 a. m. And when they close, the revelers go to out-of-town spots. All of which, Hoekstra said, adds to the duties of the police force.

* * *

A NATIVE of Holland, he likes tulips and raises hundreds of them in the spring. He came to the United States in 1881 when he was six years old, his family settling in Michigan. He came to Galion in 1903.

The Hoekstras have four children, Mrs. Fred Hocker and Matthew L. of Galion, Mrs. Kenneth Zinn of Pasadena, Calif., and Edward of Ashland. Eight grandchildren and a great grandson complete the family.

A retiring officer's badge was presented to him at a banquet held in his honor last Sunday at the Hotel Talbott, and on Dec. 10 Mr. and Mrs. Hoekstra will leave for an extended trip to visit their daughter in Pasadena.

Work supported by the seal sale within the county during the past year included 3,000 TB Patch tests for school children, $90; 66 X-Ray studies as a follow-up of the school tests, $330; hospital and surgery expenses, $841.00, and 20 per cent to the state association, $266.84, making a total of $1,437.84.

Worker 56 Years, Railroader Quits

GALION—Having gone to work for the New York Central railroad company in Galion in 1890 at the age of 16 years, H. A. Swaney, yard conductor, retired this week with 56 years of service.

After starting to work in 1890, he went to work a year later with the Nickel Plate railroad, working a number of years at Chicago, Bellevue and Cleveland, but 37 years ago he returned to Galion to work for the new York Central. He finished his work last Monday.

SAVE THAT HEAT—University of Illinois heating experts say winter fuel can be saved by keeping the heat in. Storm windows save 15 per cent, insulated walls and ceilings as much as 50 per cent. # HOMES TO RENT, NOT BUY, IS BIG VETERANS' NEED

FHA Finds Most Vets Don't Have Money to Purchase.

Veterans need and want more housing for rent.

That is the conclusion of the National Housing Agency, which has found that a large percentage of the veterans now in desperate need of homes either cannot or do not choose to buy houses at today's high prices. For that reason, a considerable portion of the Veterans Emergency Housing Program effort is being aimed at stimulating rental housing.

Rental is favored, the NHA reports, for a number of reasons. Most of the veterans are young and cannot yet afford to build or buy. Many have not yet decided where they wish to live permanently. Others are in job training or in school. It is more sound economically, the agency believes, for veterans to rent even though rentals may be high.

Conversions Urged.

Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt is recommending that wherever possible owners of large homes and other buildings convert them into rental apartments for veterans and their families.

"Coinversions of existing structures can provide ten of thousands of apartments," he said in a recent statement. "The FHA (government loan insuring agency) has consistently urged remodelling for this purpose and provided financial aid. Experience has proved that conversions of existing houses and buildings into additional accommodations has an important part in the Veterans Emergency Housing Program—saving materials and time. Moreover, such accommodations are rented—and rental units represent the veterans' greatest need."

Conversions afford an immediate opportunity for additional units in the shortest space of time. They require less material than new houses produce dwelling units faster, provide cheaper rental housing and require less utility installation.

Turning existing structures into apartments is chiefly a matter of interior remodelling. Modern materials for building walls and ceilings, such as decorative insulating board, can be used advantageously in this work. The use of large, predecorated building boards cuts down labor and material costs and speeds completion of the job. The wall finishes are attractive without requiring further finishing and the rooms are insulated for protection in both summer and winter.

NATION-WIDE INDUSTRY

The insulating board industry is spread throughout the nation. Its plants are found on both coasts, in the North and in the South, from Maine to Oregon, from Minnesota to Alabama.

Duplicate Cleaning Outfits Save Housewives Many Steps

A convenience that should be designed into your home is an ample and well-placed broom closet on each floor. Much labor and many steps will be saved by this provision for a duplicate cleaning outfit.

A tiresome household task is the storing away of out-of-season clothes. Some people simpify it by building in a mothproof closet in the attic. Such a closet with walls and ceiling lined with red cedar shingles, the cheapest for in which that wood can be had. Provide rods on which the hangers can be placed to hold all the off-season clothes.

Deep drawers or closets for blankets and woolens are good for care of bedding and, if possible, have the room high enough so that window draperies may hang full length without being taken off the poles.

It is a convenience to have small windows in all closets although not always easy to do so. They make it possible to air the closets without keeping the doors open, and a light closet is a discouragement to moths; they prefer dark places.

Gum Supply Increases--Teachers, City Theaters 'Stuck' With It

At least two groups in Mansfield don't much care if the chewing gum shortage EVER ends.

The stuff is slowly—very slowly making its way back on the market after a war-born shortage. Candy dealers report occasional receipt of a box of the "better brands."

The lack of those foil-wrapped sticks is still, therefore, disappointing some patrons of that favorite "in-jaw" sport.

But it isn't bothering, in the least, those still small groups who always get "stuck" with the unpleasant aftermaths of a gum chaumpin' session: teachers and theater custodians.

Teachers, who can remember the pre-war days when a single Johnnie or Susy could "gum up" a class period, cross their fingers and hope that the shortage gets worse.

Teachers recall how distracting a rapidly moving, gum-spurred jaw of as tudent can BE when they're trying to explain the intricacies of an isosceles triangle.

Theater custodians breathe an even bigger sigh of relief when head-lines tell of the continued shortage.

"What an exciting mystery picture can do for the underside of a movie seat is murder," reports one custodian. "I used to spend more time UNDER the seats—scraping the stuff off—than customers did IN them," he said.

Rural Schools Get $63,144

Ten Richland county schools yesterday received a total of $63,144 from the state department of education in an allocation of state foundation funds. The money represents the fourth quarterly distribution for 1946.

County Schools Supt. Boyd Robinson said the checks were immediately mailed to the various clerks of the boards of education. Neither Shelby nor Mansfield schools had received their funds.

County schools and their allocations are:

Bellville $5,999; Butler $7,168; Lexington $5,610; Lucas $3,684; Madison $15,606; Mifflin $1,487; Plymouth $4,547; Shiloh $5,671; Springfield $6,743; Union $6,625.

Dinner Bandits To Get Deserts

CHICAGO —(AP)— A pair of "dinnertime bandits" have been turning up as uninvited guests at south side homes.

Three times within a month the gunmen interrupted evening meals, and walked out with $723 in cash and $1,800 worth of jewelry.

The police are after them with the intention of giving them a generous helping of their just deserts.

Hansaker's Hollywood

By GENE HANSAKER

HOLLYWOOD — I belong to a gang. The gang meets on the last Saturday night of every month. Somebody is always sure to ask me, in these words or others to the same effect, "Who is the nicest person you've met among the movie stars?"

Robert Taylor

Well, I have a new answer to that one:

Robert Taylor.

Bob crawled out of bed for the sole purpose of keeping an interview appointment at a studio. He wasn't just on time, he was a little ahead of time.

It wasn't just his punctuality, or his firm handshake and warm grin that make me say Bob is a nice guy. There is about him that air of unassuming modesty whereby you know he'd be right at home at a small-town ice cream social. A little embarrassed, probably, at the fuss that would be made over him and I'm sure he'll blush and squirm to read these words!

* * *

Bob's hair is black, his narrow mustache parted in the middle like the separate wings of a bird, and his tanned complexion radiates good health — the quality which seems to be the first requisite for a movie star. I found him in the knotty-pine dressing room he has occupied since his big hit in "Magnificent Obsession" 10 years ago.

"Wish I could get another picture as good," Bob confided. He hopes "Undercurrent," which he and Katharine Hepburn recently completed, will prove to be so.

The kind of picture Bob Taylor really wants to do is a rootin', tootin', shootin' western.

* * *

Bob thinks his marriage to Barbara Stanwyck has lasted seven and a half years because both are able to put it ahead of their careers.

"Barbara is better than I am at parking her studio cares on the doorstep when she comes home at night. She'll blow right up to the catwalks if something upsets her at work, but I carry my worries around inside myself. She gets them out of her system, and I wish I were more that way."

Oh, the Taylors do have their squabbles, like anybody. "Usually when I've cooked dinner," Bob said, "and Barbara sits there and just picks at her food. That makes me a little sore. But she hasn't much of an appetitie."

Ex-Lieut. Taylor, a Navy flying instructor during the war, has bought a new plane, but he doesn't expect Barbara to fly with him. Their other source of irritation is not Bob's snoring — they have separate bedrooms — but her lack of enthusiasm for golf, tennis, hunting, and flying.

PROTEST FILED IN SHOOTING OF U. N. DELEGATE

Ukranian Terms Incident 'Premeditated.'

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. —(AP)— Ukrainian foreign minister Dmitri Manuilsky Saturday handed Secretary of State Byrnes a formal protest against what he said appeared to be "a premeditated attempt" on the life of Gregory V. Stadnik, a member of the Ukrainian delegation to the United Nations.

Manuilsky previously had told newsmen that he considered the shooting, which took place in a midtown New York delicatessen Wednesday night, as a "political crime." The Russian press and radio also have attacked American authorities for failure to apprehend the assailants.

The protest was in the form of a long letter, which informed quarters said reviewed the shooting incident and called on Byrnes to "bring to justice" those responsible for the shooting.

Manuilsky described the circumstances in which the shooting took place, when Stadnik along with another Ukrainian adviser, A. D. Voina, entered a delicatessen late Wednesday night, and said he had come to the conclusion that this "is not simple robbery."

Previously, Manuilsky had told reporters that he considered it a "political crime."

At Byrnes' headquarters it was announced that he had received the letter from Manuilsky Saturday night, and probably would dispatch an answer early next week.

Meanwhile, Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallander of New York reiterated his belief that the whole affair merely resulted from "a stickup" and said nothing had yet come to light to indicate a political motive.

BIG 5 TOSSES VETO TO U. N.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov flatly rejected last night Anglo-American-Chinese-French efforts to restrict use of the veto, and the badly split Big-Five thereupon tossed the whole issue back into the United Nations assembly.

Action came after two and one-quarter hours of argument behind closed doors. The clashing views between Molotov and the other big power spokesmen were reported, however, by western diplomats in the meeting.

These disclosed that at the outset of the meeting, Molotov urged his colleagues, including Secretary of State Byrnes and British Foreign Minister Bevin, to adopt a resolution stating that they were against all attempts to revise the veto provisions of the United Nations charter, that they objected to regimentation and formality being imposed on the United Nations organs and that they sought further development of U. N. harmony.

Bevin, Byrnes, Ambassador Wellington Koo, of China, and Alexander Parodi, of France, all declared that they considered Molotov's resolution unacceptable.

The wording of his draft, however, and his insistence on the need for action by the assembly left no doubt that when the issue comes up in that United Nations body, Russia will demand in strongest terms a rejection of all criticisms of the veto.

GOP READY FOR JOB HARVEST

Still another major state job under Governor-Elect Thomas J. Herbert may go to a Richland county stalwart. It's rumored Harry E. Hawley, now clerk of the county's board of elections and formerly chairman of the board of liquor control, is in the running for the directorship of the liquor department.

While Hardy wouldn't name names for other political jobs, it is well known that new appointees in Richland county and vicinity will probably occupy the jobs of manager of aid to the aged, manager of the wholesale liquor store on North Main street, in Mansfield, and division engineer of the state highway department at Ashland after Herbert takes office.

Managers of the liquor store and the office of aid to the aged are supposed to be under Civil Service guarantees but both are currently under provisional appointments and could be removed "for cause." Manager of aid to the aged is Mrs. Mae Lex and L. J. Wervy is manager of the liquor store.

Besides these supervisory positions, scores of "small fry" workers are expected to be replaced in various departments, despite the pledge of Republican leaders that no wholesale job shake-up is slated.

Progressives Urge LaFollette To Run

MILWAUKEE —(AP)— The Milwaukee County Progressive Republican Organization Saturday called upon Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr. (Prog.-Wis.) to accept a "draft" to run for congress in a special electnon next spring to fill the vacancy caused by the death Wednesday of Rep. Robert K. Henry.

Purse Thieves Thrive at Christmas Shopping Time

Police Warn Mansfielders To Be Careful

By JOHN MINE

Christmas, traditionally a season of giving, also, unfortunately, is a season of TAKING. The target: the purses of unwary women shoppers.

Riding in on the crimson coat tails of St. Nick this year—as in other years—will be scores of crafty sneak thieves.

They'll spot a likely victim as she fingers a Yuletide tie for Dad. When Mrs. Buyer lays her purse down for a closer look at the neckwear—that's the end.

Striking with the speed of a snake, Friend Sneak Thief snatches up the purse and is gone. In a flash, Mrs. Buyer is left with nothing but a depleted Christmas fund—and an empty heart.

To put Mansfield shoppers wise to the ways of thieves, police offer the following list of "don'ts" for women who want to be able to buy that tie—and more besides:

Most important thing for shoppers to remember, officers say, is DON'T LAY THAT PURSE DOWN—NOT EVEN FOR A SECOND!

This rule applies particularly to women who must shop with a baby in their arms or are loaded down with packages. Shoppers in these two categories are singled out by thieves as "easy pickin's."

Such women are more apt to have to lay their purses down in order to examine a piece of merchandise or to shift packages or baby to another arm, police point out.

Second most important rule is designed for women with purses which are hung on the arm. When shopping in a crowded store, keep them UNDER the arm, not ON it, officers say.

It's a simple matter for a nimble-fingered thief to unlatch the purse and be off in an instant with the contents.

Officers say that one particularly foxy thief who concentrated on "on-the-arm" hand bags used to keep one of her finger nails sharpened to the fineness of a razor's edge. She'd use it to slice through change purse cords!

Citing the need for prevention rather than cure, officers point out that the damage is done once the thief gets his (or her) hands on the purse. It's hard to un-do a snatch once it is made—and stores aren't responsible for thefts.

In making off with purses, thieves use a variety of ruses. They'll slip them under a coat or into a "package". Thieves sometimes use out-sized hand bags in which to put stolen purses before they melt into a shopping crowd.

At least one Mansfield store has taken precautions against purse snatchers and shop lifters. The store has certain of its clerks keep overcoat and hat handy. When a suspected thief is spotted, phone calls alert the clerks who don coat and hat and play "shopper," following the thief until he commits himself or leaves the store.

In rounding out Christmas season "don'ts" for shoppers, police warn against leaving autos—even locked ones—piled high with packages. They make inviting targets, too.

TROOPS ENTER ZENBAN

TEHRAN—(AP)—Premier Ahmed Qavan declared last night that government troops had entered Zenjan, strategic rail city on the route to oil-rich Azerbaijan province, and that he had imposed martial law on the entire district in order to "save the population" from "unlawful activities" of Azerbaijan soldiers. He accused the Azerbaijan troops of violating women in Zenjan, and of kidnaping and marrying several by force.

U. S. DELEGATE DEFENDS VETO

ALBANY, N. Y. —(AP)— Herschel Johnson U. S. delegate to the United Nations Security Council, declared last night that those who propose the elimination of the five-power veto privilege threaten "the liquidation" of the world peace organization.

This is the strongest U. S. statement yet made in opposition to the small-nation campaign to abolish the veto. Russia used similar language in defending the big power voting privilege which is presently being discussed by the permanent members of the security council in an attempt to modify its use.

Johnson's declaration was made at a dinner meeting of the foreign policy association.

In defense of the veto power, Johnson said that "when it comes to a matter of committing the people who must bear the overwhelming share of the burden of a decision, the representative of these people must agree to the decision."

"It is not only democratic in principle, but it is essential in common sense," he declared.

"If the large powers are divided," he added, "a decision taken by a majority might well cast the die for a major war. As long as the security council is seeking unanimity we have the chance of finding a peaceful solution. It is that chance for peace that we must support to the very last extremity."

'Wild West' Bank Robbers Get $4,000

CARLISLE, Ia.—(AP)—Two bandits wearing handkerchief masks staged a wild-west holdup of the Hartford-Carlisle Savings bank Saturday, wounding a girl bookkeeper and escaping with an estimated $3,000 to $4,000.

They entered the bank with a sub-machine gun blazing. One of the first slugs struck Florence Hinrichs, 20, in the arm. She was not seriously wounded. No one else was struck.

The bandits, unable to gain access to the safe, protected by a time lock, scooped up all the money in the bank tills and escaped in an automobile.

Carlisle is a town of about 700 population.

U. S. METHOD URGED

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The world Aviation organization Saturday recommended for all countries the long range navigation method and the so-called "blind" landing system developed in the United States.

WHAT IT MEANS

A 20 Per Cent Income Tax Cut

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON—A 20 per cent reduction in individual income taxes, as promised by Republican leaders in congress, would mean a tidy savings for taxpayers in all income brackets.

The tax of a $2,500 wage earner with a wife and two dependent children would be cut from $95 to $76 a year, a reduction of $19. The tax of a married person with no dependents and an income of $25,000 would be reduced from $9,082 to $7,265.60, a slash of $1,816.40.

To many people $19 is a puny savings. However, to a man or a widow supporting a family of four on $2,500 a year in a time of high living costs, it probably means much more than a $1,816 savings to the $25,000-a-year taxpayer. The $19 may be sorely needed for food, clothing, or medicine while the $1,816 may mean only a second automobile or other luxury.

Cut May Be Graduated.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, slated to be speaker of the house in the new congress, has said that the proposed 20 per cent reduction will be "straight across the board." That would mean a 20 per cent cut for all individual taxpayers—(not corporations) in every income bracket from the lowest to the highest.

However, there may be considerable pressure in congress to give a larger measure of relief to low-income taxpayers than to throw in the high brackets. That's how the reduction by congress a year ago worked out. Increase of the dependent exemption allowance took 12 million small-income persons right off the federal tax rolls.

Some congressmen think there will be considerable backing in the house and senate for a graduated reduction, starting possibly at 20 per cent or more in the low-income brackets and tapering down to 15 or 10 per cent in the high brackets. The high prices of so many necessities will be a main argument of advocates of greater relief for small wage-earners, particularly those with several dependents.

A tax cut could be put into effect by reducing tax rates or increasing the amount of allowance for dependent exemptions, or by both methods. In 1945 congress changed the law to grant exemptions from both normal tax and surtax amounting to $500 each for the taxpayer, his spouse, and his dependents. Under the old law, these exemptions were allowed only for the surtax.

Congress also reduced the tax rates in each surtax bracket, the changes applying to 1946 income.

Speed Is Important.

Republican leaders have said that the proposed reduction would apply to all income received in 1947. Tax authorities believe that if congress does proceed to cut taxes on 1947 income there will be considerate pressure for doing it quickly.

That's because employers will start withholding taxes under present rates from the pay of millions of employes on Jan. 1, two days before the new congress convenes. If taxes were withheld for a considerable time under present rates, many taxpayers would have a long wait for their excess payments refunded.

The government probably would not start making refunds until after March 15, 1948, when final tax returns will be due on 1947 income. It might be midsummer of 1948 before most of the excess tax payments were refunded.

What It May Mean to You

Some samples of how 20 per cent cut in income taxes would reduce yearly tax bill of taxpayers in various income brackets:

Man, wife and two dependents

| Net Income | 1946 Tax | Tax if cut 20 per cent |
|---|---|---|
| $ 2,500 | $ 95 | $ 76 |
| 3,000 | 190 | 152 |
| 4,000 | 380 | 304 |
| 5,000 | 589 | 471.20 |
| 6,000 | 798 | 638.40 |
| 8,000 | 1,292 | 1,033.60 |
| 10,000 | 1,862 | 1,489.60 |

Man, wife and no dependents

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| $ 1,500 | $ 95 | $ 76 |
| 2,000 | 190 | 152 |
| 3,000 | 380 | 304 |
| 10,000 | 2,185 | 1,748 |

(Net income means income after deductions have been taken for such items as certain taxes, interest, and extraordinary medical expenses, but before personal exemptions are taken.)

AMERICAN-ZONE GERMANS VOTE

STUTTGART, Germany—(AP)—Wuerttemberg-Baden Germans in the American zone ballot Sunday on the first democratic constitution presented to German voters in the 13 years since Adolf Hitler destroyed the Weimar republic.

More than 1,850,000 Germans are eligible to vote "yes" or "no" on the constitution proposed for the largely rural, strongly religious state.

Wuerttemberg-Baden is the first of three states of the American zone of Germany to vote on a constitution and when Bavaria and Greater Hesse follow with referendums on Dec. 1, the Germans of the American zone will have almost full control in governing themselves.

American military government after Dec. 1 will merely supervise the decisions of the Germans and handle the zone's international relations.

Along with the referendum on the constitution the voters of Wuerttemberg-Baden will elect a one-house legislature of 100 delegates. The proposed constitution is based largely on the tenets of the Weimar republic which fell in 1933, and places strong emphasis on the protection of human rights.

BILBO AIRING SET DEC. 12

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate War Investigating committee yesterday voted public hearings on complaints that Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) got more than $30,000 and expensive gifts from war contractors.

They will open here Dec. 12 after public hearings in Mississippi previously voted by the senate campaign expenditures committee into charges that Bilbo prevented Negroes from voting in the Mississippi primary.

Together, the two sets of hearings may furnish the senate Republican Steering committee the ammunition it avowedly is seeking for an effort to bar Bilbo from taking his seat.

Senators said the War Investigating committee's record contains complaints that Bilbo received, in addition to the cash, an artificial lake built on his land, a new home on an island in the lake, a new Cadillac, and funds to help build a church parsonage on land he owns.

Senator Mead (D-NY) will be chairman of the War Investigating subcommittee which will hold the Washington hearings. He said the inquiry will deal with "charges concerning certain transactions alleged to have been entered into by Senator Bilbo and certain war contractors."

TAX RATES GO HIGHER IN MOST COUNTY AREAS

22 Districts to Pay More Next Year as Result of Approval of Bond Issues, Levies.

will be in effect. The addition of the levy and the deduction of 20 cents not needed for the school debt will increase the total rate from last year's $20.

Another high rate is the $21.40 up $3.40 from last year, at Bellville where a school levy will be in effect. Similarly heavy is the increase from $15.50 to $21 in Weller township where a school operating levy of $2 and requirements on school bonds amounting to $3.50 will apply. The school rate there, at $15.50, is the highest in the county.

* * *

They'll Pay Less.

Reductions in rates were assigned to four subdivisions: Plymouth village, Worthington township containing the Butler school district, Butler village, and Butler township containing the Savannah (Ashland county) school district.

Plymouth village's rate dropped from $16.10 to $16 with a reduction in debt requirements; Worthington township's slipped from $14.60 to $14.40 for the same reason; Butler village's sank from $19.80 to $19.60 for a similar reason; and Butler township rate declined from $16.40 to $15.70 because of reductions in both school and township debts.

Comparison of rates in other major districts for 1945 and 1946, respectively, show:

Mansfield city school district, $13 and $16.20; Madison township, $13 and $16; South Boulevards, $18 and $20.80; Shelby city schol district, $13.40 and $15.20; Plymouth township containing the Shelby school district, $14 and $15.80; Springfield township, $15.80 and $18; Sandusky township containing the Springfield school district, $15.80 and $18.

Troy township, $15.80 and $18.60; Washington township containing the Lexington school district, $15.20 and $18; Monroe township, $13.20 and $15.20; Lucas village, $18.80 and $20.80; Mifflin township, $12.50 and $18.40; Jackson township, containing the Shelby school district, $13.80 and $15.60; Cass township, $13 and $16.20; Shiloh village, $17.80 and $20.60; Franklin township, containing the Union rural school district, $15.30 and $20.80; Jefferson township, containing the Bellville school district, $14.20 and $17.60.

Oklahoma's Wild About 'Oklahoma'

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — "Oklahoma!" is finally coming to Oklahoma, and it's causing more commotion in the Sooner state than the original Cherokee land rush back in '93.

The road company of the Broadway musical is opening a one-week stand here Monday night and, pardner, Oklahoma is preparing one of its biggest welcomings in history for the troupe and everyone else connected with the show.

It's just a neighborly way of showing its gratitude for the production which has brought Oklahoma more publicity than the time former Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray threatened to dig up the flowers around the executive mansion and plant potatoes.

Three weeks before the opening it was a sell-out. An all-time indoor record for a legitimate production already has been set with a box-office take of some $135,000 set by the same show at Des Moines.

It took the combined efforts of Gov. Robert S. Kerr and E. K. Gaylord, president of the Oklahoma Publishing Co., to lasso the Broadway hit. It took so long to get the show here because the Theater Guild, sponsor of "Oklahoma," has a rule making it mandatory for its shows to play in Guild cities first.

Now that the show is finally coming, Oklahoma is making it a memorable occasion.

A 2½ hour long parade is planned the opening day, with a 450-piece band—heralded as the largest ever to march—59 school bands, more than 2,000 horsemen, Indians and floats.

Twin City Teachers Threaten To Strike

MINNEAPOLIS —(AP)— Teachers' strikes which probably would close all Minneapolis and St. Paul public schools to their 100,000 pupils, beginning Monday, moved closer to reality Saturday night.

Negotiations were stalemated although last minute efforts were being made both here and in St. Paul to avert walkouts.

In general the issues were the same—higher salaries plus school board action to improve educational facilities. Tied in with the disputes were legal limitations on amounts either board can appropriate.

Heart Operation Saves 'Blue Baby'

CANTON —(AP)— Nine-year-old Patricia Weider is ready to start back to school here Monday after undergoing a delicate heart operation in Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Md., which snatched her from a rapidly approaching death as a "blue baby."

The child and her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Weider, returned from Baltimore early this week with Patricia pronounced cured of the heart condition which robbed her body of the oxygen which aerates the blood.

More About 1947 Tyger Pigskin Sked; Boxing Dope and Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

THAT 1947 MANSFIELD Senior high school football schedule is really shaping up into something. . . . Tyger athletic heads want to book seven home games to inaugurate the new Stadium field in a fitting manner. . . . Thus far five contests have been scheduled for the new plant at 30-N and Trimble road with a sixth game almost a certainty.

Fort Wayne North and Hamilton have been added to the gridiron slate with Youngstown Woodrow Wilson due to sign up at any time. . . . The Hoosier eleven copped the Fort Wayne city title this past campaign with three wins and one defeat in league competition while Hamilton's Big Blue is one of southern Ohio's pigskin powerhouses. . . . Hamilton was inked to a home and home agreement with the initial test to be played in the Blue ball yard.

North may have had a premonition of signing to meet the Tygers. . . . They had a lad named Mansfield playing guard.

Contract has been forwarded to Woodrow Wilson for an okay. . . . The Youngstown team rates with Lima Central as Ohio's top schoolboy undefeated teams. . . . Youngstown won nine straight this year, a record surpassed only by Central which won 10 in a row.

The '47 slate reads something like this: Sept. 12, Fort Wayne North, here; Sept. 19, Cleveland East, here; Sept. 26, at Sandusky; Oct. 3, Portsmouth, here; Oct. 10, Springfield, here; Oct. 17, at Massillon; Oct. 24, Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, here (tentative); Nov. 7, at Hamilton, and Nov. 14, Martins Ferry, here.

Faculty Manager Fred Staub and Coach Paul Snyder have the Oct. 31 date yet to fill. . . . But after meeting Massillon and Woodrow Wilson on successive Friday nights mayhap that open date would be mighty welcome to the Tyger gridders.

* * * * *

FIGHT IMPRESSARIO Rex Reese is building up a respectable stable of fighters as well as branching out in the promotion business. . . . He has seven pro leather swingers under contract and has booking privileges on Dick Alexander, Mansfield fast rising welterweight star.

Rex and his partner, Sam Miller, are really sold on the work of Joe Brown, bell-wether of their cauliflower collection . . . Actually only a light-heavy, Brown likes to tangle with the big boys in the heavyweight bracket . . . A former Golden Gloves champ, Brown has won his last two fights by kayoes and is looking for another "birdie" job against Joe Ceryak in the Armory Wednesday night.

Lightweight Gale Frye, who goes in one of the prelims in the VFW show, is another Reese-Miller brawler . . . They also have Frank Brown and Chuck Albright, heavyweights; Kid Aubrey, middleweight; Rogers Rucker, light-heavy and Red Beckholt, lightweight . . . Albright and Brown mix in Mt. Vernon on Dec. 4.

Reese and Miller have also started promoting shows in Canton . . . Their first one is inked for Dec. 3 . . . Joe Brown has been billed in the 10-round headliner against Jimmy Fitzjames, who battled Billy Conn a couple of times.

* * * * *

CUFF STUFF: Ed Mutryn, fence-busting Mansfield Braves backstop of 1941, was picked up by the Athletics in the major league baseball draft. . . . The A's wanted insurance for top-man Buddy Rosar. . . . The 23-year-old, 192-pound Cleveland lad was picked as the Inter-State league's most valuable player and was purchased by Oklahoma City at the end of the 1946 campaign. . . . Connie Mack got him from the Indians. . . . He played 91 games for the Braves, getting 107 hits in 346 trips to the platter for an average of .309. . . . Mutryn was in service three years. . . . His three-year pro batting average is .329.

Clair Bee, in the December Sport magazine, rates Ohio State as the seventh best prospective quint in the country. . . . The Long Island University mentor puts Illinois first and Kentucky second. . . . Mansfield's Commercial B bowling league will not roll on Thanksgiving Day. . . . Seville, of Medina county, engaged in organized football for the first time this season. . . . Twelve boys made up the entire squad and they copped one of four games.

Shelly's Whippets this year attracted more fans than any other team to represent the "bubble gum" metropolis. . . . However, the athletic treasury went 125 "bucks" in the hole. . . . New uniforms and other expenditures eradicated the grid melon. . . . John Tenant, all Mid-State league end, was elected captain of the 1946 Mt. Gilead football team. . . . Nelson Campbell, Indian back, was picked as 1947 captain and most valuable player on the '46 aggregation.

Notre Dame Triumphant Over Green Wave, 41-0

By KRIS KREEGER

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)— Notre Dame's Irish treated a record southern crowd to a demonstration of near-perfect football here yesterday, shooting 41 to 0, as the score by which they desired to trounce the Tulane Green Wave.

Nearly 70,000 spectators, the largest number ever to see a regular season game in Dixie, watched in crisp, clear weather. All in all, it was a fine afternoon of sport, except for the absence of a contest.

But the people came only to see Notre Dame, and that's all they saw.

The great Irish Quarterback John Lujack put on a magnificent passing show, completing 8 out of 9 for a total yardage of 120. Tulane's Don Fortier intercepted one of his tosses and ran it to the Irish eight, but Terry Brennan grabbed a Tulane toss on the four.

Notre Dame took the opening kickoff 77 yards to a touchdown in 11 plays. The next time the Irish got the ball they went 88 yards to another score in eight plays.

Jim Mello bulled four yards for the first six-pointer and Brennan threw for the next. Fred Early missed the first place kick and made the second.

The Irish subs then took over, lost the ball once on a fumble, had a 96-yard touchdown run by Gompers nullified by a penalty, and then settled down to get a couple of second-period touchdowns.

Zalejski scored both times, sweeping right end for 23 and 12 yards to climax marches on 91 and 49 yards respectively. Early booted both extra points.

Notre Dame gained a total of 552 yards, 428 of it on running plays. Tulane got only 22 yards on the ground and 79 through the air. The Irish made 25 first downs to the Wave's six.

Mt. Union Defeats Kenyon

GAMBIER, O. —(AP)— Halfback Vince Marrott and Fullback Tony Hrscak led Mt. Union to a 19 to 12 triumph over Kenyon today with long, driving runs for touchdowns. Marrott counted on 49 to 20-yard runs in the second and fourth quarters while Hrascak ran 43 yards off tackle in the third period.

Bobcats Beat Xavier, 25-6

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The Ohio University Bobcats, sparked by speedy King Brady, defeated Xavier, 25-6 yesterday before a Musketeer home coming crowd of about 3,000.

Brady, operating from the quarterback slot, scored two of Ohio's markers and passed to Halfback Ralph Sayre for another.

The Musketeers, whose only score came in the third quarter, stopped two Bobcat drives within the 10-yard line during the opening stanza. But the Ohioans got a 51-yard touchdown drive going early in the next quarter, Brady plunging over from the four. Minutes later, Ohio recovered a Xavier fumble on the Musketeer 30 and Brady's touchdown pass gave the Bobcats a 12-0 lead as the half ended.

After Bob McQuade, Xavier quarterback, had intercepted one of Brady's passes in the third period, the Musketeers took to the air and moved to the Ohio eight. Bob Conway smashed through tackle to score.

The Bobcats resumed their scoring early in the fourth quarter, Brady going over from the three after a 40-yard drive. A pass interception and six line plays netted another Ohio score before the final gun.

BOILERMAKERS TROUNCED BY INDIANA, 34-20

LAFAYETTE, Ind. —(AP)—Big Pete Pihos, who came back from the European battlefields to lead Indiana to the Western conference championship last year, yesterday ignored a game leg that had bothered him all this season and scored three touchdowns for the Hoosiers in a 34 to 20 victory over the Purdue Boilermakers.

Purdue, loser of the Old Oaken Bucket battle for the fourth straight year, salvaged one achievement from the game. Sub-Quarterback Johnny Galvin set a new Western Conference punting record.

Statisticians hadn't figured his exact average tonight, but they said his 48.3-yard average on three punts today was more than enough to take his season's standard past the 42-6-yard average set by Ohio's Don Scott in 1940.

Galvin had a 42-8-yard average going into yesterday's game.

Ben Raimondi completed nine passes, two of them for touchdowns, in 15 attempts and gained 143 yards for the Hoosiers. Bob DeMoss hit his receivers with five of ten throws, one going for a touchdown, and contributed 42 yards. The afternoon's work gave Raimondi a season's total of 48 passes completed for 598 yards and DeMoss 45 completions for 612 yards. Graham's record was 53 complete passes for 714 yards.

SPRINGFIELD, O. — (AP) — Denison's football team closed its season yesterday with a driving 31 to 0 victory over Wittenberg, and Fullback Bernie Wentis closed his college career with three of the touchdowns.

In the last game for both teams, Wentis scored at the end of 24-yard, 18-yard and 70-yard drives. The Granville eleven's other scores were made by Halfback Bill Leitz and Right End Joe Hart.

Illini Win Big Nine Title

FALL IN LINE FOR '47 ROSE BOWL CONTEST

EVANSTON, Ill. —(AP)— Illinois won its first Big Nine championship since 1928 and probably a Rose Bowl bid with a 20 to 0 victory over crippled Northwestern before 47,000 at Dyche stadium yesterday.

Art Dufelmeier, lanky ex-B-17 bombardier who spent 11 months in a German prison camp, provided the spark which carried the Illini to a final conference record of six victories and a lone 14 to 7 setback by Indiana.

Dufelmeier's 53-yard touchdown run provided the finishing touch to a 13-point second period in which Northwestern could advance no further than the Illini 29.

Illinois, whose one other setback in nine games this season was a 26 to 6 trimming by Notre Dame, now awaits a Rose Bowl invitation from the Big Nine faculty group of Ohio State yesterday.

The Illini, who last week downed Ohio State, 16 to 7, earlier defeated Michigan, 13 to 9, which may be the deciding factor in the Big Nine faculty selection. The Big Nine-Pacific coast pact does not automatically place the individual champion of either into the Pasadena classic, leaving the decision to a league poll.

The Illini previously voted against bowl participation, but is reported anxious to reverse its earlier stand.

Illinois got its first touchdown early in the second period on a nine-yard pass from Halfback Julie Rykovich to another former Notre Dame star, End Bill Huber.

Bert Piggott, number two fullback, singlehandedly accounted for Illinois' third touchdown in the fourth period, battering over from the one yard stripe after hammering from the Wildcat 20 in five plays. Reserve Halfback Roger Drew completed two of his three extra point attemps.

Huber, husky ex-Notre Dame wingman, had played only a few minutes previously this season. His snatch of Rykovich's pass early in the second period followed a 33-yard dash by Buddy Young to Northwestern's 10.

Minnesota 11 Turns Back Badgers, 6-0

MADISON, Wis.—(AP)—Halfback Billy Bye slashed 10 yards off tackle in the third period to a touchdown and a 6 to 0 victory for Minnesota today over its traditional interstate rival, Wisconsin.

The triumph, third straight for the Gophers after a slow start, was set up on Bye's 21-yard punt return to midfield.

The 19-year-old freshman picked up 15 yards on two smashes, and Halfback Mark Heffelfinger smashed for 10 and Minnesota's eighth first down on the Badgers' 20. Three more strikes brought the ball to the 10 from where Bye raced off right tackle to score.

Merland Kispert, sub quarterback, attempted the extra point from placement but the kick was blocked by Jerry Frei, Wisconsin guard.

Wisconsin had a 11 to 8 edge in first downs but the Gophers' net yardage was superior, 190 to 164 yards.

Harvard Loses To Yale, 27-14

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(AP)—After being knocked on their heels by Harvard's furious two-touchdown opening burst, the highest scoring Yale team in more than 40 years stormed back for a 27-14 triumph yesterday in the 63rd gridiron classic waged by those traditional rivals.

The mighty Elis, with power generated by their great Freshman backs, Levi Jackson, the negro flash, and Ferd Nadherny, scored twice in both the second and third periods to thrill about half the stadium's first 57,000 sellout crowd since 1937.

Harvard's once-beaten team, rated as its strongest since 1931, played its best football of the season during the first 15 minutes.

As soon as the teams changed sides for the first time, the thoroughly aroused Yales took over and held sway during the remainder of the game.

DOOLITTLE AERIAL GOES FOR OHIO TD

By DON STULL

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Paced by the record-breaking performance of Halfback Bob Chappuis, Michigan's Mighty Wolverines handed the Ohio State Buckeyes one of their worst drubbings in history yesterday before 78,634 homecoming fans.

Chappuis, Michigan's pass-tossing, swivel-hipped left half, threw three touchdowns passes, scored one himself, and piled up a total of 234 yards on the ground and in the air to eclipse a previous Western conference mark of 862 yards established in 1942 by Northwestern's Otto Graham.

Chappuis chalked up a net of only 28 yards rushing, but hit Michigan's receivers for a total of 206 yards to send his seven-game total in the conference to 1,002 yards. Graham set his record in only six games, but Chappius' great performance made him a deserved successor.

Although Michigan scored at will in every period, it was Chappuis' second-period splurge that sent it on the way to the most decisive victory in this 43-year-old grid series since they thumped Ohio, 86 to 0, back in 1902.

The Toledo, O., tosser hit sub end Bob Mann with a 16-yard touchdown pass early in that second period. He hurled another to right half Henry Fonde from 14 yards out, and scooted five yards for another touchdown late in the period after setting up the score with a 22-yard heave to quarterback Howard Yerges.

Center Jim Brieske, the Wolves' place kicking specialist, booted seven out of eight conversions and added a three-point field goal from four yards out in the closing minutes.

Six Michigan players figured in the touchdown parade. Fonde tallied two touchdowns, going over for the first six-pointer from the one-yard line in the first period. Mann also garnered a pair, his second coming on an end around ramble from 22 yards out in the third quarter. Halfback Paul White took a 32-yard Chappuis pass for another in the third. Dick Riffenburg, a sub end, grabbed a pass for a 40-yard gain and a fourth period touchdown, and Bill Culligan, a reserve back, added the eight on a four-yard plunge minutes later.

Ohio State's lone tally came in the closing minutes, sub quarterback Bill Doolittle tossing an aerial to Rod Swinehart who raced 40 yards across the goal. The play gained 63 yards.

Chappuis also set a new conference passing record, completing 12 out of 20 to give him 35 out of 63 for the season and a percentage of .556. This bettered the 1942 mark of .544 established by Illinois' Dick Good.

The game was Michigan's all the way. They outscored the Bucks 22 to 4 in first downs and held them to a net of 65 yards passing and running. The Wolverines piled up 209 yards on the ground and 380 in the air for a total of 509.

Latin Smothers Holy Name, 35-6

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Cathedral Latin high school rolled over Holy Name high school 35 to 6 at Cleveland stadium yesterday before 70,955 fans, largest crowd to witness the annual charity football game in the 16 years the event has been held.

The Latin Lions registered their eighth charity game victory in nine appearances, having been tied once. They also avenged a scoreless tie with Holy Name, but played in the stadium a month ago.

Proceeds from the charity game, which is sponsored by the Cleveland Plain Dealer, are divided among the medical injury funds of local high schools and the newspaper's give-a-Christmas campaign.

BREAKS MAKE UCLA PACIFIC COAST CHAMPS

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Capitalizing on two tremendous breaks, the Blue and Gold of UCLA yesterday won the right to play in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day by defeating the Southern California Trojans, 13-6 for its ninth straight victory of the season.

Performing in the mud before 93,714 rain-soaked fans, the Bruins clinched a trip to Pasadena and a contest with a big nine team, probably Illinois. All that was needed was a perfunctory vote of approval by members of the Pacific coast conference.

The Bruins scored the first touchdown four minutes after the opening kickoff, saw the count knotted as a determined Cardinal and Gold machine drove 43 yards in the second quarter, and came back to win the game early in the fourth period on a fumbled punt recovered on the Trojan five yard line.

The triumph was the second for the Bruins over the men of Troy since their first crosstown feud began in 1929, and the New Year's Day engagement at the Pasadena Bowl of Roses will be the second for the Blue and Gold.

What was expected to be a passing performance by UCLAN quarterback Ernie Case, one of the best in college ranks, was tossed out the window by the squirmy field and wet ball. The Bruins astonished their supporters by punting—and praying. The latter paid off and it was the supposedly punchless Troys who built up 176 yards by land and air to a mere 67 for their opponents, and nine first downs to the Bruins' three.

Pi Phi's Beat Tri Delts, 9-0

OXFORD, O.—(AP)— More than 2,000 students shelled out a quarter each here yesterday to watch the Pi Beta Phi Phantoms down the Delta Delta Delta Demons, 9-0, in the inaugural Rouge Bowl game at Miami University.

The sorority girls played four eight-minute quarters of touch football but interrupted the game twice as "powder boys"—replacing the conventional water carriers—ran out on the field with compacts and combs so the participants could "touch up a bit."

The "Queen" introduced at halftime, was "Miss" John J. Keefe, six-foot two, 180-pound former army air forces sergeant from Dayton, O. He was crowned by Georgiana Beames of Yonkers, N. Y., president of the university women's league.

Jo Bretz, halfback from Zanesville, O., scored the touchdown on an end run of 15 yards early in the first quarter. Halfback Marge Beverly of Elgin, Ill., ran around end for the extra point.

The safety came in the second period, when Carol Mohr of Trenton, N. Y., was "tackled" in the end zone.

Bengal Basketeers Battle Galion Wednesday

Mansfield Senior high school Bengal basketeers get their first taste of action this week when they engage Galion in a practice tilt Wednesday afternoon on the Tyger hardwood.

Coach Vern Hoffman has had his full squad out for only three days but expects the Tygers to be ready for the practice encounter. Pigskin performers joined the candidate list during last week's drills and some of ex-gridders immediately pushed to the fore.

Players like Oline Cline, Ralph Majors, Nick Gagich, Dick Flockencier, Bernie Weaver and Norm Shibinsky left the gridiron in good physical condition and moved into contending positions. Actually Cline and Majors, only returning 1945-46 regulars, had little trouble wresting first string spots from non-football playing athletes.

Approximately 20 court hopefuls worked out for three weeks prior to the reporting date for the gridders and six of them are still very much in the running for starting positions. Two of the group—Chuck Sisco and Jerry Robfogel—copped varsity letters last season.

Sisco and Robfogel are the only six-footers on the varsity squad and have been going at center and forward, respectively. Both are seniors. Nick Gagich, who played a whale of a game at blocking back against Martins Ferry, is pushing Shelley Swank for a starting guard spot. They are juniors.

Tom Bloor, city junior tennis champion, is giving veterans Majors and Robfogel quite a run for a farward berth. Weaver and Flockencier, forwards; Shibinsky, center and Phil Pittenger, guard, are the other varsity squadmen who should get a lot of work against Galion.

Hoffman has been drilling his charges in the intricacies of the fast-break. The Tygers do not have much height but they look fast and can handle that melon adroitly. Mansfield will use a zone or man-for-man defense as the occasion warrants.

The Tygers open their regular season on Tuesday, Dec. 3, when the lock horns with an alumni outfit in one of the features of the fourth annual Tyger basketball clinic in the Senior high gymnasium.

Coach Paul Horneman, Heidelberg college, will be the principal speaker at the clinic and wil demonstrate techniques of zone defense and fast break with his Student Prince hoopsters as models. Horneman will also give his impressions of the best method of penetrating zone defenses.

Basketball rules discussion will be led by Jimmy Lymper, assistant court mentor. Sophomore coach Fred Staub will introduce his team members and Hoffman will present the black-clad Tyger varsity to the fans.

Proceeds of the clinic, which is sponsered by the Tyger booster club, goes to the Mansfield Senior high pep band which will play at all home tilts. The 10-piece outfit was formed from the Tyger marching band which performed at home football contests.

Wapakoneta will provide the first official schoolboy opposition for the 1946-47 Bengals. The Redskins usually come up with a pretty tough ball club and this year should be no exception. Mansfield rolled over the Wapak five, 44-29, last year but indications point toward a tighter game in two weeks.

PROTEST FILED IN SHOOTING OF U. N. DELEGATE

Ukranian Terms Incident 'Premeditated.'

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. —(AP)— Ukrainian foreign minister Dmitri Manuilsky Saturday handed Secretary of State Byrnes a formal protest against what he said appeared to be "a premeditated attempt" on the life of Gregory V. Stadnik, a member of the Ukrainian delegation to the United Nations.

Manuilsky previously had told newsmen that he considered the shooting, which took place in a midtown New York delicatessen Wednesday night, as a "political crime." The Russian press and radio also have attacked American authorities for failure to apprehend the assailants.

The protest was in the form of a long letter, which informed quarters said reviewed the shooting incident and called on Byrnes to "bring to justice" those responsible for the shooting.

Manuilsky described the circumstances in which the shooting took place, when Stadnik along with another Ukrainian adviser, A. D. Voina, entered a delicatessen late Wednesday night, and said he had come to the conclusion that this "is not simple robbery."

Previously, Manuilsky had told reporters that he considered it a "political crime."

At Byrnes' headquarters it was announced that he had received the letter from Manuilsky Saturday night, and probably would dispatch an answer early next week.

Meanwhile, Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallander of New York reiterated his belief that the whole affair merely resulted from "a stickup" and said nothing had yet come to light to indicate a political motive.

BIG 5 TOSSES VETO TO U. N.

NEW YORK— (AP) —Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov flatly rejected last night Anglo-American-Chinese-French efforts to restrict use of the veto, and the badly split Big-Five thereupon tossed the whole issue back into the United Nations assembly.

Action came after two and one-quarter hours of argument behind closed doors. The clashing views between Molotov and the other big power spokesmen were reported, however, by western diplomats in the meeting.

These disclosed that at the outset of the meeting, Molotov urged his colleagues, including Secretary of State Byrnes and British Foreign Minister Bevin, to adopt a resolution stating that they were against all attempts to revise the veto provisions of the United Nations charter, that they objected to regimentation and formality being imposed on the United Nations organs and that they sought further development of U. N. harmony.

Bevin, Byrnes, Ambassador Wellington Koo, of China, and Alexander Parodi, of France, all declared that they considered Molotov's resolution unacceptable.

The wording of his draft, however, and his insistence on the need for action by the assembly left no doubt that when the issue comes up in that United Nations body, Russia will demand in strongest terms a rejection of all criticisms of the veto.

GOP READY FOR JOB HARVEST

Still another major state job under Governor-Elect Thomas J. Herbert may go to a Richland county stalwart. It's rumored Harry E. Hawley, now clerk of the county's board of elections and formerly chairman of the board of liquor control, is in the running for the directorship of the liquor department.

While Hardy wouldn't name names for other political jobs, it is well known that new appointees in Richland county and vicinity will probably occupy the jobs of manager of aid to the aged, manager of the wholesale liquor store on North Main street, in Mansfield, and division engineer of the state highway department at Ashland after Herbert takes office.

Managers of the liquor store and the office of aid to the aged are supposed to be under Civil Service guarantees but both are currently under provisional appointments and could be removed "for cause." Manager of aid to the aged is Mrs. Mae Lex and L. J. Wervy is manager of the liquor store.

Besides these supervisory positions, scores of "small fry" workers are expected to be replaced in various departments, despite the pledge of Republican leaders that no wholesale job shake-up is slated.

Purse Thieves Thrive at Christmas Shopping Time

Police Warn Mansfielders To Be Careful

By JOHN MINE

Christmas, traditionally a season of giving, also, unfortunately, is a season of TAKING. The target: the purses of unwary women shoppers.

Riding in on the crimson coat tails of St. Nick this year—as in other years—will be scores of crafty sneak thieves.

They'll spot a likely victim as she fingers a Yuletide tie for Dad. When Mrs. Buyer lays her purse down for a closer look at the neckwear—that's the end.

Striking with the speed of a snake, Friend Sneak Thief snatches up the purse and is gone. In a flash, Mrs. Buyer is left with nothing but a depleted Christmas fund—and an empty heart.

To put Mansfield shoppers wise to the ways of thieves, police offer the following list of "don'ts" for women who want to be able to buy that tie—and more besides:

Most important thing for shoppers to remember, officers say, is DON'T LAY THAT PURSE DOWN—NOT EVEN FOR A SECOND!

This rule applies particularly to women who must shop with a baby in their arms or are loaded down with packages. Shoppers in these two categories are singled out by thieves as "easy pickin's."

Such women are more apt to have to lay their purses down in order to examine a piece of merchandise or to shift packages or baby to another arm, police point out.

Second most important rule is designed for women with purses which are hung on the arm. When shopping in a crowded store, keep them UNDER the arm, not ON it, officers say.

It's a simple matter for a nimble-fingered thief to unlatch the purse and be off in an instant with the contents.

Officers say that one particularly foxy thief who concentrated on "on-the-arm" hand bags used to keep one of her finger nails sharpened to the fineness of a razor's edge. She'd use it to slice through change purse cords!

Citing the need for prevention rather than cure, officers point out that the damage is done once the thief gets his (or her) hands on the purse. It's hard to un-do a snatch once it is made—and stores aren't responsible for thefts.

In making off with purses, thieves use a variety of ruses. They'll slip them under a coat or into a "package". Thieves sometimes use out-sized hand bags in which to put stolen purses before they melt into a shopping crowd.

At least one Mansfield store has taken precautions against purse snatchers and shop lifters. The store has certain of its clerks keep overcoat and hat handy. When a suspected thief is spotted, phone calls alert the clerks who don coat and hat and play "shopper," following the thief until he commits himself or leaves the store.

In rounding out Christmas season "don'ts" for shoppers, police warn against leaving autos—even locked ones—piled high with packages. They make inviting targets, too.

TROOPS ENTER ZENBAN

TEHRAN—(AP)—Premier Ahmed Qavan declared last night that government troops had entered Zenjan, strategic rail city on the route to oil-rich Azerbaijan province, and that he had imposed martial law on the entire district in order to "save the population" from "unlawful activities" of Azerbaijan soldiers. He accused the Azerbaijan troops of violating women in Zenjan, and of kidnaping and marrying several by force.

U. S. DELEGATE DEFENDS VETO

ALBANY, N. Y. —(AP)— Herschel Johnson U. S. delegate to the United Nations Security Council, declared last night that those who propose the elimination of the five-power veto privilege threaten "the liquidation" of the world peace organization.

This is the strongest U. S. statement yet made in opposition to the small-nation campaign to abolish the veto. Russia used similar language in defending the big power voting privilege which is presently being discussed by the permanent members of the security council in an attempt to modify its use.

Johnson's declaration was made at a dinner meeting of the foreign policy association.

In defense of the veto power, Johnson said that "when it comes to a matter of committing the people who must bear the overwhelming share of the burden of a decision, the representative of these people must agree to the decision."

"It is not only democratic in principle, but it is essential in common sense," he declared.

"If the large powers are divided," he added, "a decision taken by a majority might well cast the die for a major war. As long as the security council is seeking unanimity we have the chance of finding a peaceful solution. It is that chance for peace that we must support to the very last extremity."

'Wild West' Bank Robbers Get $4,000

CARLISLE, Ia.—(AP)—Two bandits wearing handkerchief masks staged a wild-west holdup of the Hartford-Carlisle Savings bank Saturday, wounding a girl bookkeeper and escaping with an estimated $3,000 to $4,000.

They entered the bank with a sub-machine gun blazing. One of the first slugs struck Florence Hinrichs, 20, in the arm. She was not seriously wounded. No one else was struck.

The bandits, unable to gain access to the safe, protected by a time lock, scooped up all the money in the bank tills and escaped in an automobile.

Carlisle is a town of about 700 population.

WHAT IT MEANS

A 20 Per Cent Income Tax Cut

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON—A 20 per cent reduction in individual income taxes, as promised by Republican leaders in congress, would mean a tidy savings for taxpayers in all income brackets.

The tax of a $2,500 wage earner with a wife and two dependent children would be cut from $95 to $76 a year, a reduction of $19. The tax of a married person with no dependents and an income of $25,000 would be reduced from $9,082 to $7,265.60, a slash of $1,816.40.

To many people $19 is a puny savings. However, to a man or a widow supporting a family of four on $2,500 a year in a time of high living costs, it probably means much more than a $1,816 savings to the $25,000-a-year taxpayer. The $19 may be sorely needed for food, clothing, or medicine while the $1,816 may mean only a second automobile or other luxury.

Cut May Be Graduated.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, slated to be speaker of the house in the new congress, has said that the proppsed 20 per cent reduction will be "straight across the board." That would mean a 20 per cent cut for all individual taxpayers—(not corporations) in every income bracket from the lowest to the highest.

However, there may be considerable pressure in congress to give a larger measure of relief to low-income taxpayers than to throw in the high brackets. That's how the reduction by congress a year ago worked out. Increase of the dependent exemption allowance took 12 million small-income persons right off the federal tax rolls.

Some congressmen think there will be considerable backing in the house and senate for a graduated reduction, starting possibly at 20 per cent or more in the low-income brackets and tapering down to 15 or 10 per cent in the high brackets. The high prices of so many necessities will be a main argument of advocates of greater relief for small wage-earners, particularly those with several dependents.

A tax cut could be put into effect by reducing tax rates or increasing the amount of allowance for dependent exemptions, or by both methods. In 1945 congress changed the law to grant exemptions from both normal tax and surtax amounting to $500 each for the taxpayer, his spouse, and his dependents. Under the old law, these exemptions were allowed only for the surtax.

Congress also reduced the tax rates in each surtax bracket, the changes applying to 1946 income.

Speed Is Important.

Republican leaders have said that the proposed reduction would apply to all income received in 1947. Tax authorities believe that if congress does proceed to cut taxes on 1947 income there will be considerate pressure for doing it quickly.

That's because employers will start withholding taxes under present rates from the pay of millions of employes on Jan. 1, two days before the new congress convenes. If taxes were withheld for a considerable time under present rates, many taxpayers would have a long wait for their excess payments refunded.

The government probably would not start making refunds until after March 15, 1948, when final tax returns will be due on 1947 income. It might be midsummer of 1948 before most of the excess tax payments were refunded.

What It May Mean to You

Some samples of how 20 per cent cut in income taxes would reduce yearly tax bill of taxpayers in various income brackets:

Man, wife and two dependents

| Net Income | 1946 Tax | Tax if cut 20 per cent |
|---|---|---|
| $ 2,500 | $ 95 | $ 76 |
| 3,000 | 190 | 152 |
| 4,000 | 380 | 304 |
| 5,000 | 589 | 471.20 |
| 6,000 | 798 | 638.40 |
| 8,000 | 1,292 | 1,033.60 |
| 10,000 | 1,862 | 1,489.60 |

Man, wife and no dependents

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| $ 1,500 | $ 95 | $ 76 |
| 2,000 | 190 | 152 |
| 3,000 | 380 | 304 |
| 10,000 | 2,185 | 1,748 |

(Net income means income after deductions have been taken for such items as certain taxes, interest, and extraordinary medical expenses, but before personal exemptions are taken.)

AMERICAN-ZONE GERMANS VOTE

STUTTGART, Germany—(AP) —Wuerttemberg-Baden Germans in the American zone ballot Sunday on the first democratic constitution presented to German voters in the 13 years since Adolf Hitler destroyed the Weimar republic.

More than 1,850,000 Germans are eligible to vote "yes" or "no" on the constitution proposed for the largely rural, strongly religious state.

Wuerttemberg-Baden is the first of three states of the American zone of Germany to vote on a constitution and when Bavaria and Greater Hesse follow with referendums on Dec. 1, the Germans of the American zone will have almost full control in governing themselves.

American military government after Dec. 1 will merely supervise the decisions of the Germans and handle the zone's international relations.

Along with the referendum on the constitution the voters of Wuerttemberg-Baden will elect a one-house legislature of 100 delegates. The proposed constitution is based largely on the tenets of the Weimar republic which fell in 1933, and places strong emphasis on the protection of human rights.

BILBO AIRING SET DEC. 12

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate War Investigating committee yesterday voted public hearings on complaints that Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) got more than $30,000 and expensive gifts from war contractors.

They will open here Dec. 12 after public hearings in Mississippi previously voted by the senate campaign expenditures committee into charges that Bilbo prevented Negroes from voting in the Mississippi primary.

Together, the two sets of hearings may furnish the senate Republican Steering committee the ammunition it avowedly is seeking for an effort to bar Bilbo from taking his seat.

Senators said the War Investigating committee's record contains complaints that Bilbo received, in addition to the cash, an artificial lake built on his land, a new home on an island in the lake, a new Cadillac, and funds to help build a church parsonage on land he owns.

Senator Mead (D-NY) will be chairman of the War Investigating subcommittee which will hold the Washington hearings. He said the inquiry will deal with "charges concerning certain transactions alleged to have been entered into by Senator Bilbo and certain war contractors."

TAX RATES GO HIGHER IN MOST COUNTY AREAS

22 Districts to Pay More Next Year as Result of Approval of Bond Issues, Levies.

will be in effect. The addition of the levy and the deduction of 20 cents not needed for the school debt will increase the total rate from last year's $20.

Another high rate is the $21.40 up $3.40 from last year, at Bellville where a school levy will be in effect. Similarly heavy is the increase from $15.50 to $21 in Weller township where a school operating levy of $2 and requirements on school bonds amounting to $3.50 will apply. The school rate there, at $15.50, is the highest in the county.

* * *

They'll Pay Less.

Reductions in rates were assigned to four subdivisions: Plymouth village, Worthington township containing the Butler school district, Butler village, and Butler township containing the Savannah (Ashland county) school district.

Plymouth village's rate dropped from $16.10 to $16 with a reduction in debt requirements; Worthington township's slipped from $14.60 to $14.40 for the same reason; Butler village's sank from $19.80 to $19.60 for a similar reason; and Butler township rate declined from $16.40 to $15.70 because of reductions in both school and township debts.

Comparison of rates in other major districts for 1945 and 1946, respectively, show:

Mansfield city school district, $13 and $16.20; Madison township, $13 and $16; South Boulevards, $18 and $20.80; Shelby city schol district, $13.40 and $15.20; Plymouth township containing the Shelby school district, $14 and $15.80; Springfield township, $15.80 and $18; Sandusky township containing the Springfield school district, $15.80 and $18.

Oklahoma's Wild About 'Oklahoma'

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — "Oklahoma!" is finally coming to Oklahoma, and it's causing more commotion in the Sooner state than the original Cherokee land rush back in '93.

The road company of the Broadway musical is opening a one-week stand here Monday night and, pardner, Oklahoma is preparing one of its biggest welcomings in history for the troupe and everyone else connected with the show.

It's just a neighborly way of showing its gratitude for the production which has brought Oklahoma more publicity than the time former Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray threatened to dig up the flowers around the executive mansion and plant potatoes.

Three weeks before the opening it was a sell-out. An all-time indoor record for a legitimate production already has been set with a box-office take of some $135,000 set by the same show at Des Moines.

It took the combined efforts of Gov. Robert S. Kerr and E. K. Gaylord, president of the Oklahoma Publishing Co., to lasso the Broadway hit. It took so long to get the show here because the Theater Guild, sponsor of "Oklahoma," has a rule making it mandatory for its shows to play in Guild cities first.

Now that the show is finally coming, Oklahoma is making it a memorable occasion.

A 2½ hour long parade is planned the opening day, with a 450-piece band—heralded as the largest ever to march—59 school bands, more than 2,000 horsemen, Indians and floats.

Twin City Teachers Threaten To Strike

MINNEAPOLIS —(AP)— Teachers' strikes which probably would close all Minneapolis and St. Paul public schools to their 100,000 pupils, beginning Monday, moved closer to reality Saturday night.

Negotiations were stalemated although last minute efforts were being made both here and in St. Paul to avert walkouts.

In general the issues were the same—higher salaries plus school board action to improve educational facilities. Tied in with the disputes were legal limitations on amounts either board can appropriate.

Heart Operation Saves 'Blue Baby'

CANTON —(AP)— Nine-year-old Patricia Weider is ready to start back to school here Monday after undergoing a delicate heart operation in Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Md., which snatched her from a rapidly approaching death as a "blue baby."

The child and her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Weider, returned from Baltimore early this week with Patricia pronounced cured of the heart condition which robbed her body of the oxygen which aerates the blood.

Children at the Richland county Children's Home were preparing to relish a delicious venison dinner today after Walter Hardin, Perrysville, R. D. 1, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday, that he had found the dead deer on the highway two miles east of Lucas on Route 39.

According to the sheriff's office, the deer had been struck by an automobile, but as yet the driver has remained unidentified.

The deer was taken to the Children's Home for disposition.

Hunters are warned again about the safety of guns while hunting. Although snow never falls during the early part of rabbit and pheasant season, the sports men must pay particular attention to keeping their guns from becoming clogged with leaves or mud.

McGINTY

One of the most unexcusable causes of hunting accidents is brought about by clogged barrels. Most accidents result from the other fellows carelessness, but you, yourself can be that careless fellow if you allow your gun barrel to get mud or snow in it.

Every hunter should get into the practice of double checking and cleaning his gun the night after the hunt as well as before taking to the fields

* * *

Accidents, especially hunting accidents, do not just happen, they are caused, and usually through lack of caution on the part of the man with the gun. Enjoy your hunting trip, but make it a safe one. Be cautious.

Robert Fisher, J Tearson, R Motson and Charles Glander, each accounted for one of the four pheasants that were reported shot down over Mifflin lake area this past week.

According to records at Ed Edwin's boathouse, E. Conrad and Herman Stine were the only two hunters to bag their limit in rabbits.

Only 40 hunters registered before going into the fields around the Mifflin area.

* * *

Many hunters were concerned about the scarcity of rabbits and pheasants when the season opened two weeks ago, but now are confused over these reports.

The Ohio conservation board announced that rabbits and pheasants are more plentiful this year than before, in most sections of the state

In Richland county, the greatest concern is when will there be any ammunition and hunting equipment. According to local sporting good stores, supplies in shotgun shells and gear is completely diminished and the spokesmen have no idea when there will be any replacements.

Flyers Zoom Past Marshall, 29-7

DAYTON, O —(AP) - Rounding out Coach Harry Baujan's 25th season, the University of Dayton Fliers zoomed to a 29 to 7 win over Marshall college here yesterday before 6,000 fans

The Fliers romped to their victory on a second half spree of three touchdowns and a safety after the count stood in a 7-7 deadlock at halftime.

Capt Jack Castignola opened the Dayton attack in the final minutes of the first period on a 19-yard touchdown gallop, but little Jack Chapman of Marshall nullified that effort in the second period, driving over from six inches out

Dayton pulled away rapidly after the intermission, with Stan Groene, Art Bok and Bill Bachus each snagging a six-pointer. A Chapman punt was blocked for a safety by the charging Dayton line midway in the third period Bill Goss kicked all but one of his conversions for Dayton.

Lou Worsham Leads Druid Hills Golf

ATLANTA - (AP)— Continuing the sub-par golf which swept him into the lead yesterday, Lou Worsham of Washington, D. C fired a three-under-par 69 today in the $12,000 Druid Hills invitation golf tournament for a 54-hole total of 205, and a four stroke lead over his nearest competitor

Worsham, 29-year-old veteran of 30 months in the navy, toured the first nine of the 6,575-yard course in 33 and finished with a par 36.

Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., and Doe Zarhardt of Norristown, Pa., each with 70 today, remained deadlocked for second place with 209.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio shot 70 to lead the amateurs and tie with two others for tenth place.

TECH MASTERS FURMAN, 41-7; BULLDOGS WIN

Tennessee, North Carolina Also Up For Consideration.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK —(AP)— Illinois and UCLA grabbed conference titles yesterday and became the likely participants in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1 under the "closed shop" agreement reached earlier this week by the big nine and Pacific coast conferences.

Illinois, one of the two western conference schools that voted against the tie up, snared its first loop title since 1928 by lashing crippled Northwestern, 20 to 0, while UCLA proved the superior mudder in downing Southern California, 13 to 6, in a game that was played in a virtual quagmire but which did draw 93,714 of the curious.

While the Illini moved out in front as the probable eastern participant in the daddy of all Jan. 1 bowl extravanganzas, Michigan turned loose its fury in crushing Ohio State, 58 to 6, and grabbing second place in the standings.

Georgia and Georgia Tech, each a candidate for an invitation and each a contender for the southeast circuit flag, loafed to easy victories over minor league opposition in preparation for their own meeting next week. Georgia smeared Chattanooga, 48 to 27, with the losers getting 20 points in the final quarter. Georgia Tech mastered Furman, 41 to 7.

Mississippi State, another Bowl prospect, also kept in the headlines by downing Ole Miss, 20 to 7, primarily on the work of Tom (Shorty) McWilliams, ex-army star.

Tennessee, however, had its difficulties but pulled itself together for a 7 to 0 decision over Kentucky that insured Gen Robert Neyland's eleven of Jan 1 consideration.

In the southern conference, another breeding ground of Bowl teams, North Carolina loosed the famed Chales Justice for 15 points in the final period to defeat Duke, 22 to 7. That meant the loop title for Carl Snavely's men.

Penn State, one of the few eastern teams in the Bowl auction now that Army has closed the door was tripped by Pittsburgh's youngsters, 14 to 7, while Yale made Cornell a title possibility in the Ivy league by rebuffing Harvard, 27 to 14 Cornell plays Penn Thursday and a win would send the title to Ithaca A Quaker triumph means a title deadlock between Harvard and Penn, with Yale and Cornell only a half game behind.

Oklahoma pushed Nebraska out of the big six picture, 27 to 6, but still must await the outcome of Thursday's Kansas-Missouri embroglio to know who will share the title with the Sooners.

Rice kept up its campaign to share the southwest laurels with Arkansas by blanking Texas Christian, 13 to 0, and Southern Methodist moved out of the cellar by battering Baylor, 35 to 0 Rice plays winless Baylor next Saturday.

Princeton, which surprised by beating Penn several weeks ago, surprised again today—this time by losing to Dartmouth, 20 to 13. Columbia and Syracuse put on a high scoring melee, the Lions coming out ahead by 59 to 21 margin. Holy Cross edged past Temple, 12-7.

Stanford walloped California, 25 to 6, in the traditional big game, Oregon State downed Oregon, 13 to 0, and Washington blanked Montana, 21 to 0.

In a pair of intersectional affairs, Michigan State defeated Maryland, 26 to 14, and New Mexico polished Kansas State, 14 to 7

TRIPLE MAIN EVENT SPOTLIGHTS FIGHTS

By BRUCE M'GINTY

Thirty-seven rounds of boxing, including a triple main event, are scheduled for the edification of Richland county fight fans on Wednesday night's first annual Veterans of Foreign Wars Christmas charity show at the Armory at 8:15.

A portion of the proceeds of the all-star fisticuff carnival will go to the VFW Children's Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Mansfielders Paul Carbetta, Dick Alexander and Joe Brown are featured in the eight round main events.

Carbetta, who should tip the scales at about 124, goes against Paul Chaney, Delaware, in the feature encounter.

Paul dropped the third decision of his professional career two weeks ago in Toledo and he wants to get back on the victory wagon again Carbetta has notched 19 victories in 22 pro battles.

Alexander has left seven opponents scattered behind him on his jaunt to the top of the local fistic ladder but Lou Williams will pose a serious obstacle Wednesday. The rugged Dayton southpaw looked mighty sweet in eliminating Wally Barkley of Massillon here last month.

It will be the second main event for Alexander, who has won five of his victories at the Armory. He decisioned Johnny Bryant of Massillon in the last Mansfield pro show.

Bryant gets another chance before a local audience when he meets Woody Lowden, Columbus, in a six-rounder. Alexander also holds a victory over Lowden in the Armory ring.

Joe Brown, pride of Rex Reese's stable, will be after his fourth straight since coming to Mansfield when he mets rugged Joe Ceryak, Cleveland. Brown tips the scales in the light-heavyweight classification but likes to meet the big boys. He kayoed Kid Esmont, Canton, here in October.

Mansfield fighters will wind up their heavy work tomorrow and taper off Tuesday. Weigh-in time has been set for 3 p. m. Wednesday at the Armory.

Reese and Sam Miller, Mansfield fight promoters, have served as matchmakers on the show which is under the aegis of Tom Posa, jr., and his VFW committee. The boxing and wrestling commission will appoint the judges for the show.

Dick Jones and Bill Harry have been signed as referees and Sam Fox will act as timekeeper.

Reserved seat tickets for the charity show are now on sale at City News, Stone's Grill, Park Avenue News, Saprano Cigar store, Dick Jones club, Ritz Nite club and the VFW.

General admission tickets will go one sale the night of the fight.

The highest paid hurler in the history of baseball, the speedball artist was believed to have received more than $50,000 last season from the Indians. Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Whippets Open Cage Campaign

SHELBY — The Shelby Whippets open the 1946-47 basketball season Tuesday night by entertaining Fostoria here in a non-league game Fostoria defeated Shelby 46 to 35 last year

Although lacking heighth, the Whippets will try to make speed overcome the handicap. Only two six footers, Dick Seitz and Dave Connelly, will be in the starting line up.

Handicapped by lack of practice because of the junior play cast using the gymnasium-stage during the first week of cage drills, Coach Charles Williams' quintet will have had only nine sessions together before meeting the Fostoria team.

Connelly is the only starter from last year's team back this winter. Other lettermen expected to be in the starting lineup will be Seitz and Bill Lucas Bill Thompson and Stan Jones are also prospects.

Three other Northern Ohio league schools open their cage schedules against non-league opponents during next week. Upper Sandusky travels to Kenton on Wednesday night, Bellevue entertains Bowling Green Friday night, while Willard plays host to Tiffin Columbian on Saturday night.

The Whippets won 10 out of 17 games last winter under Coach Charles Williams, who is starting his third year as head basketball coach at Shelby High. Williams, a graduate of Otterbein college, has as assistant coaches, Larry Swackhamer, Al Fendrick, Joseph Yohn and Bill Wilkins.
